General Jacques Leclerc

Famous French War Hero Is Killed in Plane Crash

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(CP)—The air ministry announced tonight that Gen. Jacques Leclerc, France's famous armored warfare leader, was killed in an airplane crash in the Sahara desert.

Air Secretary Andre Marosselli said Leclerc's plane crashed 20 miles from Colomb-Bechar, 200 miles south of Oran and near the Algeria-Morocco border. It was in Africa that Leclerc first gained fame in the war against Germany and Italy.

It was understood that 12 persons were aboard the plane and that all were burned to death.

Leclerc, lately inspector general of French North African forces, headed a French division in the United States Third Army's drive against the Germans and led French forces into Strasbourg and Paris. He later went to the Pacific, and last year made a survey in Indo-China. His real name was Count Philippe de Hantesiocque—the Leclerc being a nomme de guerre.

Schuman Govt. Moves Swiftly In Strike Crisis

FROM BUP and CP DISPATCHES

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The new French government, grappling with a nationwide strike of 2,000,000 workers and fresh outbreaks of violence, today recalled for army service about 80,000 men of last year's militant class.

PREMIER ROBERT Schuman's cabinet, meeting for four hours in emergency session, was reported to have discussed the mobilization of striking dockers, miners and railwaymen. It did not reach a decision. The cabinet scheduled still another meeting this evening, to be followed by an executive session of the so-called inner cabinet of top ranking ministers.

In an earlier move, 66 police commissioners were discharged. Each of the commissioners was in charge of a district. There was no official explanation of the action but the Communist organ, L'Humanite, called it a "purge." The commissioners were described as veterans of the "French resistance," appointed after liberation.

SCHUMAN IS KNOWN to be afraid of letting the Communists gain control of the French police.

Armed with a fresh vote of confidence, he met with his new cabinet to consider means of fulfilling the promise he made to the chamber of deputies that "proofs of the government's energy" in combatting the ominous wave of strikes would be displayed before the day is ended.

His government, less than a week old, won a narrow victory of 322 votes for him and 186 against, with 83 abstentions.

Informed sources said the cabinet would work on a plan by Schuman calling for some regulation of the right to strike, including secret votes by workers before issuance of a strike call.

Canada Wants Voice in Peace

OTTAWA, Nov. 28. — (CP) — A highly-placed spokesman for the external affairs department said last night that Canada feels she "has a vital interest in the peace settlement in the Pacific" and has hopes of representation at a Japanese peace conference.

The spokesman was commenting on a London dispatch quoting the Russia news agency TASS as saying the Soviet government has suggested that the foreign ministers of China, the United States, Russia and Britain meet next January in China to discuss the Japanese peace.

The spokeman said that until the reported Russian suggestion was officially announced, he did not want to comment directly on it. But so far as Canada was concerned she definitely wanted to be represented at the Japanese peace table and this view already was known.

Disease Carrier Located in City

Discovery of one more diphtheria carrier in Edmonton brings the total number of cases and carriers in Alberta to 67 since Sept. 1. Dr. A. Somerville, director of communicable diseases, said Friday. No further reports had been received on flare-up of the disease reported from the St. Lina district Thursday, nor from the Hutterite colonies in southern Alberta.

Poliomyelitis attacked its 75th victim in the province Thursday Dr. Somerville said. The latest case is of a young man in the Three Hills district.

Huge Skin-Grafting Job Fails Save Boy

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Six-year-old Steven Linden's painful ordeal ended in death last night after surgeons grafted 480 square inches of skin on to his badly burned body.

More than 100 persons volunteered their skin after half of his body was burned when his clothing caught fire Nov. 3.

From 20 of the donors, doctors grafted the 480 inches of skin Nov. 20 in an operation which they said probably was the most extensive in medical history.

Montreal Girl Shot To Death

MONTREAL, Nov. 28. —(CP)— Therese Heroux, 19, was shot to death in the living room of her rented Bannotingy street home late last night. Police are holding Armand Barthelot, 30, as a material witness pending inquest.

Police said the dead girl was a sister of Barthelot's wife who died three months ago.

The story that police pieced together of the shooting was not quite clear as yet.

They said Barthelot visited the girl's house earlier last night, and finding her with her steady boy friend, he told the girl's parents who were also in the house at the time, that he was going to get a bottle and would return later.

When he came back several hours later, he appeared to be under the influence of liquor, police said, and produced a revolver from his overcoat pocket.

He proceeded to go through the motions of emptying the chamber of bullets in front of the girl, her boy friend and her parents, who apparently thought it was all a joke.

Police said that Barthelot then walked up to Miss Heroux and placed the revolver against her temple. The girl seemed unconcerned still thinking it was all in fun, when Barthelot suddenly squeezed the trigger four times and shots rang as the girl dropped limply to the floor of her living room.

An examination by police doctor showed that three bullets had entered the girl's head and that she had died almost instantly.

Snow In London

LONDON, Nov. 28. —(Reuters)— A cold spell over south-east England and the European continent brought snow to London yesterday.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Retention of parliamentary seats by a Conservative candidate in Howdenshire, Yorkshire, and by a Labor candidate in Edinburgh east was announced today following tabulation of ballots at by-elections held yesterday in the two constituencies.

AT HOWDENSHIRE, long a Conservative stronghold, G. W. Odey polled 23,344 votes for the major opposition party compared with 9,298 for the Labor candidate, Tom Neville, and 3,819 for the Liberal candidate, J. E. Wilson.

Odey's plurality of 14,046 votes compared with a plurality of 10,187 gained in the 1945 general election by G. W. Grimsop, Conservative, whose resignation because of ill-health forced yesterday's by-election.

In the general election Glosspo polled 21,348 votes against 11,161 for Neville and 5,069 for Wilson.

IN EDINBURGH East, which had been considered fairly safe for Labor, the government party candidate, Tom Wheatley, polled 19,000 votes compared with 11,490 for D. Matthews, Liberal National and Conservative candidate; 3,379 for J. Junor, Liberal; and Mrs. Mary Doll, Scottish Nationalist, 1,682.

Value of Penicillin Is Said Lessening

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(CP)— An increasing number of germs are developing an immunity to penicillin, the British Medical Journal says in its current issue, indicating that the drug's usefulness soon may be lessened. "Little can be done to delay the time when a majority of staphylococcal infections (pus-forming bacteria) will be resistant at least to a dangerous degree to treatment with penicillin," the magazine says.

Aim, World Conquest

Russia Will Strike When Victory Assured

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The "invincible" Red Army? "One of the greatest illusions of our time," a military expert who has fought both with and against the Russians said last night in a magazine article asserting that the Soviet military force "is poorly armed, poorly equipped, poorly trained and has a low morale."

BUT THE soldier - writer, a former Estonian army officer named Arnold Pure declared that "the Soviet leaders, whose undisguised aim is world conquest, are making every effort to catch up with and outdistance the democracies."

He sounded this warning in an article published by the Reserve Officer, a monthly magazine.

"The Soviet Union will profess peaceful intentions only as long as she does not feel strong enough to attack. The moment, however, she feels assured of victory, she will strike. Her military power increases, surely and inevitably, with every year that passes."

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 28.—(AP) —Police searched vainly today for clues leading to the slayer of Donato (Dan-The-Mooch) Muzzi, 67, who died yesterday of a crushed skull and possessed a hidden fortune of more than $25,000.

Locate Driver Of Stolen Auto

A 15-year-old youth has admitted being the driver of a stolen car which was the object of a police chase Wednesday night. During the wild 20-minute pursuit, two policemen emptied their revolvers at the car.

Detective Jack Langford and J. B. Arial, investigating the case, apprehended the youngster Friday morning. They stated the boy has admitted stealing and driving the car. The youth is said to have stolen the auto because he wanted to learn to drive.

The car, owned by A. M. Johnson, 9921 104 street, was taken Tuesday morning. The youth is reported to have driven it for a while, parked it and then on Tuesday night to have picked it up again. He has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

After spotting the stolen auto about midnight Tuesday, Constables Jamie Dean and Norman Furnell gave chase in a police prowler car. At top speed, the car led police from the North Side to the South Side. Police were forced to ram their vehicle into the rear of the other.

The stolen vehicle went out of control and came to halt in a vacant lot near the University hospital. The driver of the car leaped out, ran among the hospital buildings and eluded police.

Holiday Toll Heavy in U.S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A total of 105 persons died violent deaths as the United States observed the Thanksgiving holiday.

Ninety persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, and 15 others died violently of miscellaneous causes, including an airplane crash in West Virginia, hunting accidents and drownings.

The total passed last year's 83, of which 69 were traffic victims.

Sunny, mild weather marked the traditional fall holiday in the gulf and south plains states and in most of the western states. Snow was general, however, in the northeastern section and in parts of the north central states.

The Girls Have It

Life Expectancy Grows Better On the Prairies

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)— You may not know this, but right this minute you have a better chance of living to a ripe old age than you did, say, 10 years ago.

And, if you're a woman, you'll likely live longer than if you would if you were a man.

And, finally, if you live on the Canadian prairies, your chances of reaching the bay-window bracket are better than those of Canadians living elsewhere in this broad Dominion.

Confusing? Maybe. But it must be right. The statistics say so, and statistics have a habit of proving to be uncomfortably—in this case, comfortably—right.

These life - and - death gems turned up yesterday from the Dominion bureau of statistics based on surveys of the 1931 and 1941 census and mortality of 1940-42.

At birth, males have a prospect of 62.96 years of future life now as against around 60 years in 1931 while females can look forward to 66.30 years compared with 62.10 a decade ago.

The statistics prove, too, that the prairies, with their broad and open spaces, are the best place to live. Western baby boys, for example, will live to be 63.43, some five years longer than their Quebec brothers, whose expectancy is placed at 60.18 years.

In Ontario, the male expectancy is 64.55, British Columbia, 63.63, and the Maritime provinces, 61.69.

On paper, there's quite a tussle between the girls being born in the Prairies, Ontario and B.C. They can all expect to live to be 68 but the B.C. girls have a fractional margin on those of the other two provinces. In the Maritimes, the expectancy is 64.63 and in Quebec 63.07.

And aren't you glad you don't live in India? The expectancy there is 26.9 years for boys and 26.6 for girls.

Coldwell Urges 6-Point Emergency Program

OTTAWA, Nov. 28. — (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, in a statement today urged on the government a six-point program, including closure of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and re-introduction of the excess profits tax, to help alleviate the present price crisis. The program:

1. RE-IMPOSITION at the earliest possible date of price controls on all basic necessities of life—food, clothing and fuel.

2. Renewal of the subsidies on milk, butter, bread, feed grains, cotton and wool.

3. Closing of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and the elimination of speculation in essential foods.

4. Reconstruction of the prices board in such a manner that it can adequately administer price controls.

5. Re-introduction of the excess profits tax.

6. Rationing, if necessary, of any essential commodity which is in such short supply that some Canadians may not get their minimum share.

MR. COLDWELL said:

"I put forward this emergency program—not in any narrow partisan sense—but in the firm belief that it has the support of the ma-

Finnish Workers Call Off Strike

HELSINKI, Nov. 28.—(AP)— A strike of more than 40,000 government employes, which tied up communications, railroads, planes and ships and closed schools for two days, was called off today.

Konsti Janne'ainen, chairman of the organization of Finland's civil servants, announced the end of the strike:

"During the two days the strike lasted the organization has found out what disastrous consequences a continued strike may have for the country."

The decision followed reports that the government had been planning army conscription for strikers, who sought more pay.

14 Military Leaders Of Germany Indicted

By Edwin Shanke

NUERNBERG, Nov. 28. — (AP) — Fourteen German military leaders — three field marshals, one admiral and 10 generals — were indicted today by the United States on charges of crimes against peace and humanity.

THEY REPRESENT the last of the important military figures in the German High Command in American custody whose health enables them to stand trial and who have not been promised clear extradition.

The defendants are: Field Marshal Wilhelm Von Leeb, army group commander-in-chief in the invasion of France.

Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle, who commanded the Condor legion in Spain and later Nazi air fleet three, which bombed England from its bases in France.

Field Marshal Georg Karl Friedrich Wilhelm Von Kuechler, who

Seamen Walk Off Ocean Steamers

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP) — Members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TCL) walked off ocean-going ships in Halifax, Saint John, N.B., and Quebec City last night and prospects for settlement were no brighter. Deadline for strike action is midnight tonight.

A strike would tie up ocean-going vessels from coast to coast and not settled soon would seriously hinder the shipment of food to Britain, Europe and China.

Crews of 11 of the 25 deep-sea ships under the ruling of the CSU "beat the gun" and left their vessels last night in protest against delay in conducting contract negotiations. Nine ships were left crewless in Halifax, one in Saint John, N.B., and one in Quebec. No "walkout" was reported in Vancouver or Montreal.

The CSU here yesterday wired the Dominion labor department charging the shipowners with refusing to bargain over the terms of the 1946 agreement "in good faith."

CSU president Harry Davis had moved the strike deadline from Tuesday midnight to tonight when agreement "on certain important matters" were reached.

However there was no further progress on the union's demands for a shorter working hours in port and afloat and overall wage boost of 15-cents-an-hour for all officers and men.

Loaded or Not, Justice Objects To Gun in Court

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)— Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald of the Alberta supreme court is not particularly enthusiastic about guns being waved about in his court.

A plaintiff in a separation case produced a revolver from her purse when requested to show a gun she claimed her husband had been asking about. The "speaking" end of the gun faced Mr. Justice Macdonald.

"I don't like a gun in court," Mr. Justice Macdonald said, "especially when it is pointed at me so let's not point that."

A court attendant inspected the weapon and reported it was empty.

"Well, put it away anyway," Mr. Justice Macdonald ordered. "It's the unloaded guns that go off."

Atlantic Starts No. 2 Leduc Well

Drilling on what could be considered a "sure producer" on the choice piece of land in the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oil fields, purchased early this fall by Atlantic Oils Ltd. for a substantial sum of money, was commenced yesterday and operations continuing satisfactorily today.

This well, in the centre of the growing important Leduc sector, will be an east offset to the company's D3 zone successful No. 1 well, and will be known as Atlantic Oils-Leduc No. 2.

ATLANTIC NO. 1 was placed on production two weeks ago with a flush flow of 80 barrels an hour, then a record for the Leduc sector. East Leduc-South Braseau, which came in Wednesday afternoon with a flow of 95 barrels per hour, holds the present record. Oil at Atlantic No. 1 is now being produced through a small choke at between 200 and 300 barrels per day, an exception operation.

Home Oil Company's Leduc No. 1 well, which lost circulation in the lower D3 zone about a week ago, is heading well into the well in an effort to plug the mud-absorbing D3 zone porosity, restore circulation, and permit drilling of the 30 to 50 feet remaining for completion. Oil was found in the upper D2 zone and a heavy gas flow was encountered in the part

Says Premier Manning

Alberta Is Greatest Province in Canada

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)—There is general recognition in Canada that Alberta has advanced to where it is the leading province in the Dominion, Premier Ernest Manning told the 13th annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit League here yesterday.

"THERE IS greater recognition of our province outside Alberta than there is within it. The greatest single factor today in extending Social Credit across Canada is what is happening here.

"There are thousands who want what we have. The thing that gives people confidence is that you know where you are going and you have a goal."

He said the Social Credit campaign now calls for an all-out two front war—on the home front in internal economy and in the federal field with "Ottawa as our objective."

Saboteurs of human freedom were attempting to set up a socialistic

$50,000,000 Loan Made to Belgium

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP) —The United States government-owned export-import bank announced last night it has agreed to lend $50,000,000 to Belgium for a five-year period.

The loan was declared necessary to enable Belgium to maintain purchases of raw materials and equipment in the United States which the Belgians must have to keep up their "high level of industrial production."

Belgium, although included in the Marshall Plan, is better off financially than most European countries, but is still short on the dollars required for buying in the United States, officials said.

Japan Treaty

its oft-repeated position that groundwork for the Japanese peace treaty must be laid by the council of foreign ministers, where the veto may be exercised.

The Russian foreign ministry, Tass News Agency reported, rejected a Chinese suggestion that the treaty be considered by the Far Eastern Commission, with a unanimous vote of the Big Four—in this case, Britain, China, Russia and the United States—required for any decision.

The Russians expressed agreement with the Chinese concept of unanimity of the Big Four (the right to exercise the veto) but said the Japanese peace settlement should be undertaken first by the foreign ministers of Britain, China, Russia, and the United States, and proposed that they meet in China next January for that purpose.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Tass said today the Soviet government has suggested that forei n ministers of China, the United States, Russia and Great Britain meet next January to discuss a peace settlement for Japan.

The Tass report, which was from Moscow and was distributed by the Soviet Monitor here, said Russia suggested that the proposed special session be held in China provided that "the Chinese government deems this desirable."

By-Elections

Edinburgh East thus was 5,416 compared with its plurality of 5,817 in the by-election in the same constituency in October, 1945.

THE BY-ELECTION in East Edinburgh was made necessary by the appointment of G. R. Thompson to a judicial post. In the October, 1945, by-election, Thompson won 15,482 votes against 9,665 for Lieut. T. G. D. Galbraith, his Conservative opponent.

The October by-election was made necessary by the elevation to the peerage of Lord Pethick-Lawrence who carried the seat at the general election in mid-summer, 1945.

The Edinburgh east result marked another stride in the Labor government's record of not having lost a single Labor seat in a by-election since the Labor party was elected to office in 1945. There have been 23 such by-elections.

Balloting in the Edinburgh East and Howdenshire by-elections took place yesterday but the results were not known until today.

THE RESULTS in the two constituencies, following advance political speculation which generally had conceded the Howdenshire seat to the Conservative party and Edinburgh East to Labor, did not show sufficiently marked trends to cause much rejoicing among either Labor or Conservative parties.

In Edinburgh East the Labor party plurality was almost unchanged from the previous by-election and in Howdenshire the Conservative plurality was increased by 3,859 votes over its margin in the 1945 general election.

STOKE-ON-TRENT, Eng.—(CP)—Two hundred miners, prevented from working at a local pit by a mechanical failure which required two weeks to repair, volunteered to work in another mine instead of remaining idle and drawing pay as they were entitled to do.

commanded army groups in Russia; Gen. Johannes Baskowitz, who commanded German forces in the Netherlands; Gen. Hermann Von Hoth, commander of a Panzer army in Russia; Gen. Hans Reinhardt, commander of an army group centre in Russia; Gen. Hans Von Salmuth, commander of an army in the French campaign.

Gen. Karl Holidt, commander of an army in southern Russia; Admiral Otto Schniewind, operations officer, chief of the navy armament office; Lt.-Gen. Karl Von Rouques, commander of a group in southern Russia.

Lt.-Gen. Walter Warlimont, armed forces operation staff; Lt.-Gen. Otto Woehler, commander of an army group in Russia; Lt.-Gen. Rudolph Lehmann, legal counsel of the German army; Lt.-Gen. Hermann Reinecke, chief of the national socialist guidance staff of the High Command.

THE INDICTMENT charges the 14 with planning, preparing, initiating and waging wars of aggression and invasion of other countries; murder, torture, deportations, enslavement into forced labor and mistreatment of millions of persons, plunder of public and private property, wanton devastation and destruction of cities, towns and villages, and "other grave crimes."

Blaskowitz, former commander of the German twenty-fifth army, surrendered his troops to Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, now chief of the Canadian general staff and at the time commander of the 1st Canadian corps. The surrender occurred May 5, 1945 at Wageningen, Holland, east of the Grebbe line. Prior to the surrender, Blaskowitz and Artur Seyss-Inquart, German Reichcommisar hanged here a year ago, had negotiated for Canadian food to pass through no-man's-land for the hungry Dutch. Holland's food and transport had been drained by the German occupation policy.

Holy Land

dict is given, it was reported by informed Arab sources.

Many of Palestine's estimated 650,000 Jews planned to hear the decision by radio. Many flocked to the wailing wall in the old city of Jerusalem to join a special prayer, led by the Chief Rabbi of Palestine, Dr. Isaac Herzog, that "the nations of the world will recognize the justice of the Jewish cause."

A few hours before the partition decision was expected, about 1,450 singing and cheering Jewish official "quota" immigrants reached Haifa from detention camps in Cyprus aboard the ferry ship Ocean Vigour.

THE IMMIGRANTS, among whom were more than 500 children under two years of age, sang the Zionist anthem Hatikvah (Song of Hope) from behind barbed wire cages on the top deck of the Ocean Vigour.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly goes to a final vote today on partitioning Palestine, with the contest so close that neither side would predict the outcome officially.

The long-awaited ballot on the Russian-American proposal to split the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab states was expected in mid-afternoon.

The major developments during the Thanksgiving recess was a dispatch from Port Au Prince saying that the Haitian delegation, which had joined the Arab-led opposition to partition, had been instructed to vote for the division scheme. Such a reversal could give the pro partitioners enough votes.

At adjournment Wednesday night, 26 countries were supporting the plan and 15 were listed in opposition. This left the proposal short of the two thirds (of those voting yes or no) necessary for passage, but a Haitian swing could accomplish this.

Both factions were conscious, however, that 12 countries remained in the abstention column and any or all of those might take a stand on the final ballot.

hitherto exempt. Another decree gave the force of law to a government decision to have all workers in private industry paid a 1,500-franc ($12) cost-of-living bonus every month. The effect of this is to raise the national minimum wage to 9,750 francs ($82) a month.

Faced with a slow but steady spread of the strike wave, the cabinet decided to ask the national assembly to be ready to meet at a moment's notice to push through crisis measures.

"THE GOVERNMENT has decided to make public order and the liberty to work respected by full means at its disposal," Pierre Abelin, secretary of state in Schuman's office, said after the meeting.

The new military call came as reports of striker sabotage became more and more frequent. Police were being called upon to clear strikebound railway stations and factories.

Leduc Oil

of the D3 zone so far penetrated.

IMPERIAL LEDUC No. 17, which has been failing to respond favorably to efforts to place it on production, kicked off Thursday after being acidized and produced 132 barrels of oil through casing in 13 hours. It is now ready for further acid treatment. This is the first intensive acidizing in the Leduc sector.

This well is a D2 zone completion which showed about 1,000 foot rise of oil in a drillstem test some time ago, considerably less than that obtained at other wells completed in the D2.

Reports from other Imperial wells are: Muskeg No. 1, drilling hard sand at 7,642 feet; Battle Lake No. 1, drilling at 7,406 feet; Legal No. 1, drilling at 5,729 feet; Woodbend No. 1, coring at 7,406 feet; Leduc No. 20, drilling limestone at 5,100 feet; Leduc No. 21, drilling limestone at 4,821 feet; Leduc No. 22, drilling lime at 4,470 feet; Leduc No. 23, drilling shale at 3,420 feet; Leduc No. 25, drilling shale at 3,437 feet; Leduc No. 26, drilling sand and shale at 1,930 feet; Leduc No. 27, 303 feet.

jority of the Canadian people and in the sincere hope that the government will act and act quickly to prevent a further disastrous rise in prices.

"Faced with similar emergency conditions, the administration in Washington is contemplating the re-imposition of controls. But, as during the war, we can act independently to protect our people against the full ravages of inflation.

"PARLIAMENT WILL reconvene in a few days. Unless parliament acts, all price controls will end automatically at midnight Dec. 31 . . ."

Warning that Canada is facing a national emergency, Mr. Coldwell added that the health and economic security of the Canadian people were in jeopardy. Drastic increases in the price of such protective foods as milk, would reduce consumption below the safety level.

"In the meantime profiteering is rampant," he said. "Unscupulous big businessmen have taken advantage of the nation's calamity to wing the highest profits in history out of the Canadian people."

Russia to Strike

The magazine said Purre served with the Estonian army until the Soviet occupation of his country in 1940. "Absorbed" into the Red Army, he escaped in 1941 and took part in Estonian guerilla warfare against the Soviets. Now living in Sweden he is described as one of the country's best informed experts on the Red Army.

HE SAID Russia defeated the Germans only because Germany's troops were improperly equipped for the intense cold of the northern winter and because the western powers were sending supplies to Russia at the same time they were wrecking Germany by air attacks.

Purre said the Russians fought so badly that "there are numerous instances of small Estonian detachments fighting and beating Russian forces at a ratio of one Estonian against 10 or more Russians."

Alberta Greatest

state in Canada, the premier said.

"Our opponents can't defeat us by themselves—even if they united forces. Therefore they are determined to undermine confidence in Social Crediters. They say we are only interested in good government and that we have forgotten Social Credit . . . That is untrue. Any Social Crediter who betrays his own movement by such actions should hang his head in shame.

He outlined a five-point program for 1948 as:

(1) Individual and collective re-dedication to the Social Credit cause.

(2) All-out recruiting campaign to enlist the active support of all who think like Social Crediters.

(3) All-out effort to enlist goodwill and co-operation of those "who are not yet Social Crediters but who share in our desire to turn Alberta into the greatest province in Canada."

(4) Progressive legislation program to develop internal economy.

(5) An all-out offensive on the second front . . . "throwing our full weight behind the drive to plant the banner of Social Credit on Parliament Hill in Ottawa."

Earlier, Attorney-General Lucien Maynard told delegates that Alberta must obtain amendments to the British North America act in order to be able to enact Social Credit legislation.

The convention approved a resolution endorsing a statement issued by Premier Manning at the end of last session of the legislature.

IT SAID: 1. We re-affirm our unswerving allegiance to the principles of Social Credit and our unshakable determination to carry through to a successful conclusion the fight for social and economic security with freedom initiated in this province by the late Pemier William Aberhart.

2. We condemn, repudiate and completely disassociate ourselves and the Social Credit movement in Alberta from any statements or publications which are incompatible with the established British ideals of democratic freedom or which endorse, excuse or incite anti-semitism or racial or religious intolerance in any form.

3. We reiterate our intention to do everything in our power to unite the people of this province and country, irrespective of color, race or creed, in an all-out effort to end the present vicious finacial monopoly and restore the effective control over money and credit to the people themselves.

IN COMMENTING on the resolution, Walter Kuhl, Social Credit member of Parliament for Jasper-Edson, said in his opinion there was no chance of electing a federal Social Credit government in the next Dominion election. He advanced the theory that since 1931, through the Statue of Westminsted, the province of Alberta was a completely sovereign state without any superior authority and social credit could be implemented here.

"We have the constitutional right to enact any legislation we wish if we assert it."

A further resolution requesting the government of Alberta to continue its fight for the implementation of the benefits provided by the Alberta Bill of Rights, even to the extent of securing amendments to the British North America Act, was approved.

Derides Pravda Claim on Germans

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A War Office spokesman said yesterday that German soldiers are being recruited in the French occupation zone for the French Foreign Legion.

He derided a report published in the Moscow newspaper Pravda that 500,000 had been enlisted, saying:

"There are only about 15,000 men in the whole Foreign Legion.' The Legion consists of four regiments.

"Only Frenchmen are recruited in the colonial service," the spokesman said.

He added that Germans and other nationals recruited for the Foreign Legion signed up for five years. Germans entering the Foreign Legion are taken to Marseille for enlistment and basic training and then sent to Sidi Bel Abes in Morocco. It is a tradition that a man enlisting in the Foreign Legion never is asked about his nationality or his past.

Plans for N.Y. Golden Anniversary Next Year Being Shorn of Glamor

By Norman Altstedter

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Plans for celebration of New York's golden anniversary next year have been shorn of glamor.

No "world-of-tomorrow" moving sidewalk will undulate up Park Avenue to transport myriads of sightseers viewing exhibits commemorating the 50th anniversary of the five boroughs comprising New York.

THEY'VE EVEN toned down the name of the celebration, changing it from "jubilee" to "anniversary". The Oxford Dictionary gives one definition of jubilee as "exultant joy," while anniversary is defined as the more prosaic "yearly return of a date."

"New York will have fine, dignified celebration in keeping with the times," said a member of a special mayor's committee which rejected the proposal to use 11 blocks of stylish Park Avenue to display some of the exhibits.

THE REJECTION followed a two-week-long howl of protests from business men, property owners and tenants of Park Avenue. However there was a section on the city's 7,500,000 residents who wanted to undulate the avenue.

Newspapers took for-and-against stands. The staid Times described the project as "comprehensive and boldly conceived."

But the World-Telegram cracked editorially: "Let's be our age let's not be silly."

IT ALL STARTED last month when Grover A. Whalen, chairman of Mayor William O'Dwyer's Jubilee (Anniversary?) committee presented grandiose plans for a six-month-long exhibition including an international ballet and folk dance festival, an international air exposition and a world fashion show. All these are approved.

Whalen is an old hand at staging glamorous affairs. He was president of the 1939-40 World's Fair on Flushing Meadows—now the site of the United Nations Assembly—and all agreed that it was a super-super spectacle. But it was a financial flop.

The uproar began when Whalen issued his plans for 1948.

All is relatively quiet now with the $700,000 appropriation for the Park Avenue display chopped from the $1,836,000 proposed budget. Whalen hoped to show a profit of $1,913,250.

MEANWHILE the international aspect of the celebration has been highlighted with the dispatch by the mayor, of a letter to King George VI, stamped with the first cachet marking the event.

The design of the stamp depicts the old Dutch Stadt-Huys where, 264 years ago, the act was passed that officially named the city in honor of the Duke of York.

Appropriately enough, the King —an ardent stamp collector—also held that title when he ascended the throne.

Copy Catting Pays Off

Joel, a New York dress designer, whips up a quick replica of Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown. Within a week, as a result of his eagle eye and flashing needle, American brides will be able to march down the aisle in copies of the gown—at $1000 per copy. Joel's assisted by Anna Abramowitz, left, and Kate Bulkin.

Planes to Rescue Stranded Britons

CROYDON, Surrey, Eng., Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Eight charter planes left Croydon airport yesterday in answer to emergency calls from Britons, stranded in Paris by a strike which has cut rail communications between the two countries. "Most of the calls came from travellers on business in Paris," said officials, "but many more calls from the south of France can be expected if the strike goes on."

Bulgaria Charges Greek Provocations

SOFIA, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—The Bulgarian government has filed a new complaint with the United Nations Security Council alleging Greek monarchist "provocations" along the frontier with Greece, responsible sources announced yesterday. These sources said that a group of armed Greek "bandits" attacked a sheepfold at Nevrokop on the night of Nov. 9, driving off 500 head of sheep and goats into Greek territory.

Severe Temporary Cut Seen

Britain May Reduce Canada Meat Imports

By Chester Bloom
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—A severe temporary cut in British imports of Canadian fresh, chilled and frozen beef, bacon and pork may be the outcome of the arrival here of a British government food delegation. The British party is headed by Sir Percival Leisching, permanent secretary to the United Kingdom ministry of food. The visitors at once went into consultation with members of the Canadian cabinet and representative officials of Canadian food and agricultural marking boards.

BRITAIN IS COMPELLED to slash or reduce in some degree her imports all along the line in the austerity drive to bring her enormous excess of imports at least in some partial relation to her diminished exports.

How long the reduction in imports of Canadian meats and other agricultural products may last apparently may depend on two major factors: First, the outcome of the European emergency aid program now before the United States Congress and, second, on how much the British may be able to increase manufactured exports to Canada in the period of the Canadian temporary ban or quota reduction on Canadian imports of such goods from the United States.

To simplify this problem, both Britain and Canada are seeking more U.S. dollars—Britain to continue her system of paying for Canadian imports one-half in U.S. dollars as long as possible, and Canada to get U.S. dollars for essential U.S. imports of coal, oil, steel, etc., to keep her economic machine working.

ONE BY-PRODUCT of possible British reduction of imports of Canadian beef may be the relaxation of the Canadian ban on export of live Canadian cattle to the U.S. There is understood now to be under consideration a proposal to license some export of live cattle from Canada to the U.S. under the authority of the Canadian meat board. Such cattle export to the U.S. might be adjusted to the decrease of export of beef to Britain.

If the United States emergency aid program passes Congress with Secretary of State Marshall's recommendation that much of the food bought for be procured in other nations including Canada, this also would help to remedy partially both the Canadian and the British dollar position. If the food were bought directly in Canada, Canada would obtain a new source of U.S. dollars, if some U.S. dollars allotted to capital goods purchasing for Europe were expended in Britain, that would in turn aid the British dollar position and indirectly Canada also.

THIS LATTER situation, however, so far is purely speculative and dependent on congressional action; the British are compelled to act at once in their import restrictions precisely as Canada for somewhat different reasons, was compelled to act so suddenly in restricting her U.S. imports.

It is obvious from the foregoing that whatever decision is reached in consultation with the British food deputation, Canadian agricultural marketing is bound to be profoundly affected. Just how much will be visible when Canadian food production targets are set next week at the annual food production conference called by the Dominion department of agriculture adian agricultural organizations.

Plan to Form Chain Radio Relay Stations

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP)—International air liners will form their own chain of flying radio relay stations across the North Atlantic beginning Dec. 15 for an experimental period of six months, under plans drafted here by a technical working group of the International Air Transport Association. It was announced last night. The relay system will operate on a very high-frequency radio band during periods when normal high-frequency transmission is interrupted by magnetic disturbances.

German People's Congress Planned

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—(AP) — The Communist - controlled Socialist Unity party of the Russian zone said today a "German People's Congress for unity and peace" would be held Dec. 6-7 to elect a delegation to appear before the Big Four conference in London.

The Social Democrats and Christian Democrats, the two largest political parties in Germany, immediately said they would not participate. Even the Christian Democrats in the Russian zone spurned the invitation.

Commends Action

REGINA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Labor Minister Williams of Saskatchewan in a telegram to Finance Minister Abbott Wednesday commended federal government action in restoring price ceilings on canned goods and vegetables and urged the government to "thoroughly investigate" clothing prices with a view to restoring ceilings.

Elect Kelowna Man President

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—J. R. J. Stirling of Kelowna, yesterday was elected president of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture, succeeding Percy French of Vernon.

At the two-day conference, in which more than 80 delegates passed 31 resolutions dealing with topics from oleomargarine to old age pensions, members compared notes on poultry, livestock and food-growing. It was the province-wide federation's 14th annual convention.

Deputy Minister J. B. Munro of the provincial department of agriculture supported the organization's anti-oleomargarine stand, asserting that for "economy of the Dominion and good of the people," the federation should circulate information about "the true facts of the product," to organizations advocating the import and manufacture of oleomargarine.

The federation unanimously passed a resolution protesting any legislation to permit the sale or manufacture of the commodity in Canada. An "oleomargarine bill" is expected to be introduced at the next session of the House of Commons.

Claims Sections Of Press Unfair

STELLARTON, N.S., Nov. 28.—(CP)—Clare Gillis, CCF member of Parliament for Cape Breton South, at a public meeting here last night criticized "some sections" of the press of Canada for "loose handling" of the story of the CCF government's activities in Saskatchewan.

An example of a story that had been repeated was that since the election of the present Saskatchewan government 700,000 persons had left that province.

He said there had been a large migration from the province during 1940-41 but that was when a Liberal government was in power.

"I think it is reasonable to say that a large part of that migration was due to the war," he added.

"Other provinces might well learn a lesson from Saskatchewan, and the press of the country can do a great service by being fair and factual to a party of the country that is showing us the way to correct the evils in our system . . ."

Some Relaxation

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—(CP)—A partial relaxation of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission's ban on display-window lighting was announced late yesterday, effective Dec. 1 - Dec. 25. During that period the commission will permit one 100-watt bulb for each self-contained show window facing the street from 4 p.m. to closing time daily "but not later than 9 p.m."

London Borough Thanks Canadians

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(CP)—The mayor of London's Southgate borough has released a "letter for Canadian papers" expressing the district's gratitude for a consignment of gift food received from the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

"The quality of the food and the excellence of the packing are deserving of the highest praise," he said, after describing how the gifts were distributed among 7,000 aged and needy persons.

"After eight years of very restricted diet, it is impossible to convey to you how welcome are the delightful and varied additions that come from Canada and the other dominions and colonies.

Flour Production Shows Increase

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Production of wheat flour increased in October to 2,331,104 barrels, compared with 2,481,189 in the preceding month and 2,432,875 in the corresponding month last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported today. Output for the first quarter of the current crop year amounted to 7,424,687 barrels compared with 8,819,250 in the similar period of 1946-47.

First 9 Months This Year

Vancouver's Shipping Trade Reaches Ten-Year Peak

By Erwin Fricke

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Sixty-two years ago a two-masted, square-rigged sailing vessel — the brig W. B. Flint—scudded into one of the finest natural harbors in the world and dumped 800 tons of tea from China on Vancouver's ramshackle wharf. That started something.

SHIPS FROM EVERY maritime country in the world have been whipping in and out of here in increasing numbers ever since.

Port Manager K. J. Burns now reports, "Vancouver's maritime commerce in the first nine months of this year has made the best showing of the last 10 years."

From the 800 tons of China tea, imports have swelled to 3,830,224 tons of goods for this year's first nine-month period from Great Britain, Sweden, Denmark, France, the Belgian Congo, Italy, Greece, South and Central America, Holland, Belgium and the United States.

Exports have soared from the first shipment of 50,000 sacked bushels of grain in 1909 to 3,120,049 tons for the first nine months of this year. Grain alone amounted to 42,416,208 bushels.

THE DOMINION'S exports to the Antipodes and Asia have more than doubled since 1938. One result is that the Australian government this month sent F. B. Gullick to Vancouver as trade commissioner to Canada.

Despite the 10-year high of more than 21,700 vessels that came to Vancouver between January and October, some shipping officials have expressed concern with the light delivery of grain from the Prairies this fall, resulting in a loss of thousands of dollars to the port.

However, the closing of Great Lakes ports by ice will swing the delayed grain movement to Vancouver's year-round, ice-free harbor.

LAST YEAR, 20 ships were idle here awaiting grain cargoes due to a box-car shortage but railway officials say there will not be a recurrence this year.

Another off-key note sounded by vessel owners is the nearly non-existent Chinese and Japanese trade. The return of ships to this once highly-lucrative run depends on the settling of China's shaky financial structure and the emergence of Japan as a trading nation once again.

It was Oriental trade—and open-ing of the Panama Canal in 1915 which realigned world trade routes —that thrust Vancouver into prominence as a world port and distributing centre.

Arsenic Balks Search for Gold

FLIN FLON, Man., Nov. 28.—(CP)—Attwood Knight, Colorado School of Mining graduate, is convinced he's solved a problem which has baffled mining engineers in Northern Manitoba for almost a quarter of a century.

The engineers have been trying to bring some of the medium-gold properties into production but have had to admit defeat because of the high percentage of arsenic in the ore. These attempts were reported to have cost more than $1,000,000 in the last 18 years.

Knight believes he has the problem licked. The big headache to the engineers has been the cost of roasting the ore to get rid of the arsenic which is too great to permit profitable mining.

However, Knight in two years of grueling work tackled the problem from a different angle. Instead of trying to get rid of the arsenic he is just as much interested in recovering it as he is in recovering the gold.

He has directed expenditure of some $500,000 in making extensive and successful tests and in erecting a mill and refinery at the Douglas Lake site, a few miles west of Flin Flon.

The process, he says, is too intricate for a layman to understand. The ore yields about 6½ pounds of arsenic and just under ½ ounce of gold to the ton. After the refinery process is completed the white arsenic is 99 per cent pure.

Before going to work on the problem Knight made sure there would be a ready market for the arsenic. He has since received tentative orders from South America, Japan, Australia, France and several parts of the United States and Canada.

Pure arsenic has a number of uses, chief of which are in the manufacture of insecticides, the making of a new type of glass, and in drugs.

Move Prisoners From Fr. Guiana

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Brig. Charles Pean of the Salvation Army, preparing for his sixth and last visit to French Guinea, said here that within 10 months the last group of evacuees who were forced to live animal-like existence in France's outpost penal settlement will be repatriated to their homeland.

THE 700 LIBERES, some of them freed from infamous Devil's Island, are the last of thousands who served sentences and then lived and suffered with no hope of repatriation.

Nearly 2,000 men have been sent home and rehabilitated by the French government through the Salvation Army.

Brig. Pean, known as "the man who conquered Devil's Island," said that of the first group of more than 800, "only three found themselves back in prison for committing new offences."

In addition to the 700 awaiting repatriation, another 700 must finish their sentences but they are in the main camp on the mainland and not on Devil's Island, "which now houses nothing but 400 coconut trees."

Tuberculosis is older than history, yet the principal means of financing the fight against TB is less than 40 years old. Christmas Seals were originated in Denmark in 1903.

Indian Veterans Refuse Grants

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 28.—(CP)—You never know what will happen next—now there are people refusing to accept money.

Seven boys from an Indian reserve near here enlisted in the Canadian Army during the war. On their return they planned on applying for their re-establishment credits and buying a farm for themselves. But things didn't work out that smoothly.

Their chief had given his blessing when the men enlisted—but taking credits from the government was a different matter. That would give the seven veterans an advantage over the other boys on the reserve. He forbid their acceptance.

Several of the veterans have accepted the chief's decision and will try to build their life without any government aid. But three others —brothers whose combined service totals about 11 years and who would be entitled to about $1,500 in credits—say they refuse to be browbeaten.

They say they want to buy a truck and a farm and rise above their primitive way of living. They see no reason why they shouldn't have the same opportunities as their white comrades.

The Department of Veterans Affairs is keeping silent about the matter. Officials say they can't do anything if the boys don't apply for credits—if they do, the credits will be granted them.

Britain Planning Utility Airliner

BRISTOL, England, Nov. 28. — (CP)—Bristol Aeroplane Company, now building the huge Brabazon I airliner, has been entrusted by the supply ministry with the development of a "general utility" airliner suitable on medium-stage routes anywhere in the world.

The aircraft, which should be available in five years, will have piston engines in the prototype, but will be adaptable to airscrew-turbines.

Specifications call for a four-engined aircraft with a payload of 11,000 pounds, made up of 32 passengers and their baggage and 2,750 pounds of freight. It will be pressurized, have a stage range of 1,354 miles and should be capable of 320 miles an hour.

Youth and Motor Cars

At the suggestion of the superintendent of schools, the Edmonton public school board has passed a resolution recommending to the department of education that an optional course in driving automobiles be authorized in Edmonton high schools; students to get credit marks if they show proficiency at the wheel.

Both the department of education and the public school board should think twice before implementing this proposal.

Can it be considered wise, at a moment when traffic and safety authorities are doing their utmost to confine the operation of motor cars to steady and reliable drivers, to encourage young people between the high school ages of 14 to 18 to sit in greater numbers in drivers' seats?

It was mentioned in the school board meeting which passed this resolution that the course had been given with great success in the schools of some United States cities.

That is to say; some pupils in those schools learned to drive cars. But what more useful knowledge did they fail to acquire because their time and attention was thus taken up?

Is it certain that Edmonton high school students are so advanced in their academic studies that they can spare time to learn the intricacies of automobile operation in school hours?

Is it suggested that the social prestige involved in driving a car be placed on the same educational level as mathematics or languages or literature?

There is very little doubt that many young people between the ages of 14 and 18 could learn to drive cars competently and carefully. There is equally little doubt that the natural exuberance of youth, the blessed exuberance of youth, would render many others quite unfit for that operation no matter how many high school courses they passed.

Certainly motor car operation, except in a strictly professional way, has nothing to do with education as Canadians understand it. The ability of a boy or girl to drive a car is more a matter for police department enquiry than the responsibility of school teachers.

Why Scuttle Freedom?

Canadians cannot feel proud because it is found necessary to protect them by law against profiteering dealers and hoarding buyers. That is the significance and the purpose of reimposed ceilings on certain kinds of canned fruits and vegetables and of official mark-ups on fresh foods of these classes. This action is taken only because a minority of greedy handlers and panicky-consumers sent prices zooming out of reason—and out of reach of people who have to live on moderate incomes.

There was no need for any such grabbing; the buyers in question should have known that. There was no justification for price-hiking on the basis of non-existent scarcity; the dealers in question certainly knew that. And both knew that the effect of the spree must be to lower the average standard of living, disturb economic balance, and spread confusion in the conditions of the nation. They engaged in a speculative ramp such as the Comintern might have inspired them to stage.

It is to be hoped the restoration of ceilings and mark-ups on this limited number of items will stand as a warning that like action will be taken all along the line should price-boosting and panic-buying extend to other commodities affected by the import restrictions. Dealers in particular cannot want a return of the wartime control system. But that is what must happen if wilful price-inflation spreads to other items in the restricted list.

Nor can such racketeering make headway if consumers keep their heads, buy ordinary requirements only to meet current needs, and refuse to be taken for a ride on the speculative band-wagon.

Price Talks at Ottawa

A British food mission is at Ottawa, to discuss revision of the agreements under which the United Kingdom is buying food supplies from Canada, and also the making of new agreements. The leader of the mission says it is interested in raw materials as well as food—such as timber and non-ferrous metals. He added that price has to be a main consideration in British purchases abroad, which is far from being new information.

Canadian interest will centre on the possibility of a new-price deal for beef and pork products. Growers complain that they are not making any money at the present prices for stock; reports are even current that breeding animals are being slaughtered wholesale because the owners see no point in keeping up their herds and flocks; and there are demands that the embargo against shipment of stock to the United States be lifted.

The livestock branch is one of the most important in Canadian agriculture; nowhere more important than in central and northern Alberta. It is even more important prospectively than immediately; because the present wholly unusual demand for wheat is bound to ease off when weather and other conditions favor Europe with a good crop, while the restoration of stock-producing there will be a slower development.

Canada will need a heavy export of meat to Britain and continental countries when wheat exports decline. It is therefore very much to the long-run interest of Canadian farmers and farming that stock-production be kept at as high a volume as possible. The more so because growers in the United States will then be in better position to fill the home demand, and little inclined to permit cattle and hog imports from Canada.

The negotiations now under way will probably decide whether or not the embargoes to the United States have to be lifted. They will certainly decide whether exports to Britain can continue at something near the present figures.

From Crop to Crop

Down in the central States, where they sow wheat in the fall, farmers are worrying because there has not been enough rain to germinate the seed. That dims the outlook for a crop next summer. And as cattle are pastured at this time of year on fall-sown wheat and rye, this branch of the farmer's business is suffering already.

President Truman and his advisers are worrying about it too. The dry weather is complicating their plans to spare an extra 100,000,000 bushels of wheat to save western Europe from being starved into a totalitarian state of mind.

The moral of this international food situation seems obvious, but it is so easily forgotten in favorable seasons that it needs frequent repetition. Mankind lives literally from crop to crop. When the harvest of one season does not provide enough to carry through until another harvest, there is hunger somewhere; and when the hunger-area is large, supplies have to be restricted in countries far distant.

The conservation of food supplies should have a place in the permanent policy of every enlightened people, and every encouragement given to methods of saving the surplus products of a good year to meet the needs of a bad crop year in some part of the world.

Fusion in Saskatchewan

By W. R. CLARKE

The fusion movement in Saskatchewan has the CCF government somewhat worried. Evidence of that lies in the recent charge made in a radio address by the attorney-general that Liberal and Conservative plans for coalition had been stopped by federal party intervention. Liberal leader Tucker and Conservative leader Ramsay immediately denied that there was now or ever had been any plan of any kind for coalition or fusion or co-operation.

The CCF attorney-general may have been fishing for information. He may have been needling his opponents as he sometimes does. It is somewhat more likely that he was doing some wishful thinking out loud. But even more probably he was trying to create a public impression or belief that the fusion movement is something sponsored, promoted and guided by the Liberal and Conservative provincial leaderships and organizations.

If it were so sponsored, promoted and guided the CCF government would have little [illegible] to be worried. Such "movements" promoted from the top rarely get anywhere and they usually leave a heap of wreckage behind them as in Alberta.

IT IS PRECISELY because fusion in Saskatchewan is not a "movement from the top" that the CCF has reason to worry. As a matter of fact Liberal and Conservative organizations have worried about it as well because when political movements spring independently from the soil and grow outside of party control there is no telling where they will finally go.

Fusion in Saskatchewan springs directly from the hearts of men, the outgrowth of concern lest freedom and personal liberty may be impaired by state authoritarianism. The possibility of impairment of individual liberty is a very real and [illegible] in Saskatchewan, visible in the growing bureaucracy, the tangle of compulsive legislation, the arrogance of government and party, the centralization of power and the infiltration of CCF agents and propaganda into the social organizations which are so much a part of free democratic living.

THE FUSION movement began last winter with the formation of committees in Regina and Saskatoon. And if one relies on visible signs it has apparently gone little further. For today there are only four fusion candidates nominated in all rural constituencies. In the cities, where it might be expected to grow most quickly, it is still a-borning. In Saskatoon the Liberals have nominated one candidate, intentionally leaving the other Saskatoon seat open for Rupert Ramsay the Conservative leader. And that is as far as it got in the cities.

But potentially, in the cities where the CCF got in by decidely minority votes, it might well defeat five cabinet ministers.

In the four constituencies where fusion candidates have been nominated two patterns of procedure have emerged. One is that Liberals and Conservatives hold separate conventions and nominate candidates. Then they hold a joint convention where it is decided by vote which of the two will be the future nominee.

The other pattern is where Conservatives, or liberals, as the case may be are invited to attend a convention of the other party and do so, taking part in proceedings, helping to select the candidate and endorsing him when the nomination is completed.

TWO FUSION candidates have been nominated under each of these systems.

In addition to these four fusion candidates the Liberals have nominated in 37 or 38 other constituencies and the Conservatives in eleven. In all of these seats fusion may, perchance, still take place under the first of the two patterns Or either or both parties may fail, either through lack of enterprise or through deliberate intention of its members, to nominate in opposition to the candidate already nominated.

The fusion movement is, therefore, a potential danger to the CCF in the next election especially because it is truly a spontaneous grass-roots growth. The CCF attorney-general may have failed to recognize it as such and so believe it could be damaged by promoting [illegible] among [illegible] leaders. But there is nothing about which to quarrel. Their position and the position of their parties is the same now as when the movement started. It is that the two great democratic parties leave constituency nominations to the constituencies. What the local Liberals or Conservatives do is entirely their own business. Party leaders and headquarters cannot and do not interfere or even advise.

MOREOVER, NO matter what party leadership might wish to do or try to do and no matter what the CCF government may try, the fusion movement is beyond control. In its own way and in its march and its spirit is the spirit of freedom. The fusion movement therefore, will go on its own way. If the people of Saskatchewan want it, then it will prevail; if they do not want it then all the party leadership in the world will not avail.

Presidential Race Starts

By RANDOLPH CHURCHILL

New York. — Nearly twelve months have still to elapse before the Presidential election, yet already it is casting its shadow before it. President Truman and his Cabinet have to work with one eye cocked towards the electorate, and this naturally interferes considerably both with wise policy-making and with efficient administration.

The Presidential race is an exceptionally open one this time, and the political tipsters are busy with their selections. This seems an appropriate moment to make a summary of what seems the form of the probable entrants for the race.

THE NEAREST THING to a certainty is that President Truman will be the choice of the Democratic party. He is known to wish to serve another term, and the Democratic nomination is his for the asking. A year ago, most people would have laid odds of four or five to one against Truman being re-elected. Today you would find few people ready to lay more than two to one against his chances. Much can change in the coming months, but certainly at this moment people predict the election of a Republican President.

With the Republican nomination offering such an apparently fine chance of election, there is no dearth of candidates. So far, four have thrown their hats openly or covertly into the ring — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Dewey is certainly the strongest of these. He will go to the convention with more pledged delegates than any other candidate. But both Taft and Stassen will have enough backing to make it unlikely that Dewey can gain an outright majority on the first ballot.

THE DELEGATES WILL be greatly influenced in their choice by the political strength of President Truman at the time of the convention. Indeed, this will very likely prove to be the deciding factor in the Republicans' decision.

If Truman looks very weak, they might indulge in the luxury of selecting Taft, whom most ardent Republicans regard as far and away the most orthodox, conservative and reliable leader in their party. If Truman seems about as strong next June as he does now, the Republicans might think it more prudent to choose a candidate with more appeal to the general voters. These circumstances would favor Dewey and, possibly still more, Stassen. If, however, Truman's chances of re-election seem to be about even money, the convention might be stampeded by panic fear into picking a dark horse who would be certain of election in all circumstances.

IS THERE SUCH A candidate available? Certainly — General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has repeatedly denied that he will be a candidate. But it is as certain as anything can be in this uncertain world that, if he were presented with the Republican nomination on a gold plate, he would accept it. And if he runs, he will be overwhelmingly elected.

One acute observer, who himself is a lifelong Democrat, told me, "If Ike runs, he will carry every state in the Union except South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama." Very powerful figures in the Democratic party would desert Mr. Truman if Eisenhower were to be the Republican candidate, and these would include many men and women who have never in their lives voted Republican.

Those who are quietly promoting Eisenhower's candidature behind the scenes will, at the appropriate moment, let it be known how far-reaching is the nature of the support on which he could rely. The prospect of splitting the Democratic party from top to bottom will certainly seem most attractive, even to many of the Old Guard of the Republican party. If exposed to this temptation in a skillful manner, they might find it irresistable and the convention might produce an unanimous Eisenhower landslide. The other candidates are all acutely alive to this danger.

Smiles

This true story is reported from a country post office.

An aged woman entered, asked for a money order for £10, and some odds and ends of stamps and postcards, totalling three shillings and sixpence.

She handed the latter sum over the counter. When she was told the total amount was £10 3s 6d she looked surprised and protested:

"But I was told that the money order was free if it was for income tax."

A son at a university was applying pressure for more money from home.

"I cannot understand why you call yourself a kind father," he wrote his parent, "when you haven't sent me a cheque for over a month. What kind of kindness do you call that?"

The father wrote by return:

"That is unremitting kindness."

"Have you caught the burglar yet?"

"No," replied the village constable, confidentially, "but I've got him so scared that he doesn't dare show himself when I'm about."

From head to heel she was exquisitely modern, and the shopwalker felt his heart beat faster.

She asked him where she could get "pencils for the eyebrows."

The shopwalker was inclined to deafness, and misunderstood her.

"The stationery section is upstairs, madam—" he began.

"But I want them for eyebrows."

"Oh, highbrow stuff! Better ask for them at the book counter."

The postman arrived back at the post office scarlet and indignant.

"Well, if some people don't just take the biscuit!" he exclaimed indignantly.

"What's the matter?" asked the postmistress.

"Why, that woman that's just arrived up the road says if she don't get her letters earlier in the morning she'll get them from another postman!"

Mother: I told you just now to stop that noise!

John: I know, but this isn't the same noise. I was playing the drum then, but I'm blowing my whistle now!

To Split Germany?

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

A few months ago the prophets of doom were predicting the breakup of the United Nations. True, the prophets were divided into two groups. One argued that the Soviet bloc of nations would walk out of UN. The other was sure that the Western powers would throw out the Slavs.

As it turned out, the calamity mongers were wrong. The UN did its job—incidentally, did its job better than in previous sessions.

PHILPOTT

It would be absurd to pretend that the UN is anything approaching a world government. But it would be equally absurd to pretend that it is not a good world forum.

Some of the most important issues which concern the human race are being discussed at UN. To date the main criticism is that there has been too much and too brutal bluntness. I often feel that way myself. But then, on second thoughts, I realize that it is a far healthier thing for the world to have all the name calling and harsh talk right out in the open.

NOW WE ARE hearing the same kind of blue-ruin talk, but this time it is about the Foreign Ministers' Conference in London. We are told that there is very little, if any, hope of agreement; that if there is no agreement Germany will be split permanently, and that if Germany is split into two parts permanently, Europe will be split into two parts permanently.

To which there are two answers:

It is by no means sure that there will be complete disagreement amongst the Big Four foreign ministers.

But even if there is, it is by no means sure that a temporarily or even permanently split Germany, or Europe, would be a calamitous thing for humanity.

GERMANY SEEMS to me to be like a giant who has run amok several times in one century. The giant's neighbors are not real friends as amongst ourselves. But they have twice been forced to stand together against the aggression of the over-violent German giant.

Now the giant has been beaten more decisively than any nation was ever beaten before in history. But the "victors" are as far apart as the poles themselves. They can't agree on anything important.

Far from being a "menace" in these circumstances it is altogether to the good to have the giant shackled by different "victors."

READERS WHO have followed this column for years back know that I have consistently denounced the attempt to split Germany permanently, or to de-industrialize her permanently. I never did agree with the Sumner Wells plan to split Germany into three sovereign states, nor with the even more foolish Morgenthau plan to make Germany a sort of national cow pasture.

There is only one way to end the so-called "German menace" and that is to end the menace of all nationalism, of which the German brand is only the most troublesome and upsetting (for us) because it came so late on the stage of history, and because it arose in the one spot on earth where the "balance of power" between the big nations was most precarious.

BUT UNTIL THE peoples and governments of Europe and the rest of the world are ready and willing to end nationalistic wars by ending what produces them—competitive nationalism—then I shed no tears because the Russians have got their ball and chain fastened on Germany's leg and the Anglo-Americans have got their handcuffs fastened on the wrists.

There is only one solution for the "German problem" and that is an integrated Germany in an integrated Europe in an integrated world order. But you cannot have an integrated Europe which is not upheld by all the great nations, including Britain, Russia, and now, the U.S.A.

The real issue at London, therefore, is how to get a basis of harmony and friendship between the east and west wings of the big power group.

Since the death of Roosevelt there has been no personality and no program able to move toward that basis. Until there is, there is little if any hope of getting together in Germany, Austria or anywhere else.

EXCISE TAXES

Editor, Bulletin.—If we Canadians do not deluge our elected representatives at Ottawa with protests against the proposed iniquitous excise tax, we deserve all we get in the way of the higher prices which will result from the higher taxes.

Now, before Parliament assembles, is the time for action. Let us all get busy and write or wire our member of Parliament asking his influence in defeating this measure when it comes up for discussion in the House.

If we are to build up Canadian industry it can only be done on the basis of quantity production which high prices, greatly aggravated by high taxes, will seriously impede.

CAN'T "FREEZE MORALS"

Editor, Bulletin.—The United Nations (the nearest we have as yet been to a world parliament) has a delicate problem when it considers Palestine.

The world Jewish community can hardly fail to disregard the warning given in Jerusalem by Chancellor Judah L. Magnes of the Hebrew University. He spoke of the spiritual peril in which he believes Judaism stands from the increase of terroristic methods and of an end-justifies-the-means ethic in the struggle for an independent Zionist state. "You may say," declared this spokesman for Jewish religious revival, "that because of our straitened position from which there is no escape, we have declared a kind of moral moratorium or, in today's terminology, a freezing of our morals. It is possible to freeze preserves or to freeze money for a time and after that to restore its value. But it is not within the power of man to freeze his morals." Dr. Magnes also declared that it is harder for a Jew to retain his religious integrity today while living among "these new-fashioned Hebrews" of the political Zionist movement than among Gentiles, forbidding as the Gentile world seems in many Jewish eyes. Another famous Rabbi, Dr. Morris Lazaron of Baltimore, also recently made a strong appeal for a Jewish return to what he called "a sense of spiritual mission."

BREAD CEREALS

Editor, Bulletin—I see this grim item in the news from Washington in a recent Bulletin: "The world's supplies of bread cereals are 10,000,000 tons short of the amount needed to maintain present rations," Sir John Boyd-Orr, director-general of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations, said yesterday.

In the light of the above authoritative statement—a pretty grim light, sir, as we move into the third post-war year!—it is not pleasant to read the weather news from the winter-wheat areas in the United States. It is clear, now, that every pound of food and fiber that can be grown in Canadian fields in the coming year will be needed in the worst way? It is going to be interesting to see the decisions arrived at, when Canada's agricultural blueprints for 1948 are drawn at the provincial-Dominion conference in December. Of course the constructive principle of 'a balanced agriculture economy' must not be lost sight of; but the 'green light' doubtless will be the dominant note in this rural design. It should be, and, if the weatherman is kind, will shine like a beacon of hope across this sorry old world?

While writing, may I comment briefly on another item, intimating that: "the tentative cost of saving Europe from economic chaos and Communism during the next four years is estimated at about $16,000,000,000 it was learned authoritatively today." I measure the ability of our North American people (U.S. and Canada) to carry the inescapable load, by the following data: "The American people spend $8,750,000,000 annually for alcoholic beverages; $3,500,000,000 for tobacco; about $1,660,000,000 on theatres and movies; $1,500,000,000 for jewelry and watches; around $1,000,000,000 for cosmetics." (New York Times). Yes sir, annually!

LIVESTOCK PRICES

Editor, Bulletin—The Alberta Federation of Agriculture is appealing to all farmers, farm organizations and interested individuals and groups to lend support and assistance in protesting to the prime minister, members of the cabinet and members of parliament to have the prices of livestock and poultry adjusted so as to bring them in line with increased production costs.

In view of the support that your paper has given farmers and farm organizations of Alberta in the past, we would appreciate any assistance that you would be prepared to give in bringing public support to this cause.

We feel that the livestock and poultry industry is so vital to this country that its future stability is of the greatest concern to all consumers and producers alike. It is not necessary for me to point out the many reports of newly-born pigs being destroyed, and the effect that will result from so many sows being marketed that would have farrowed in the immediate months ahead, which all indicate that we will not have meat for our domestic requirements, let alone our export markets which we must retain if we are to receive the benefits of foreign trade.

We expect this protest to continue for five or six days and to become nation-wide. Trusting that you may appreciate our position, and wish to share in some way these responsibilities with us.

Christmas Foods Are Plentiful But Breadwinner Must Dig Deep

By The Canadian Press

Canada's Christmas dinner tables will groan this year under their greatest weight of toothsome holiday foods in six years and the kiddies will have plenty of candy, but there's one drawback to this picture of a country fully recovered from war shortages — the family breadwinner will have to dig deep to pay for it.

STORE SHELVES are a mouth-watering delight with imports from all parts of the world and Canadian delicacies to tempt buyers.

With the government's new policy of restriction of imports to help the national economy, this may be the last year for some time for such an array. The present supplies were in Canadian warehouses before the restrictions were announced.

Prices are lowest in the Maritimes, where they remain at much the same level as last year, and are highest in British Columbia, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Ontario and Quebec, with prices somewhat higher than last year and the most varied supply of goodies, will probably sit down to the most lavish dinners.

THIS YEAR there is no need for the austerity war-time Christmas recipes which requires little butter and sugar and substituted Canadian-grown currants for exotic fruits, peel, raisins and dates.

This Christmas cooks can use all the butter and sugar they want—if they have the price.

There is a rich supply of puddings and cakes and adequate quantities of their ingredients for those who prefer to make their own.

Shops selling candy and chocolates report adequate stocks in all sections but prices have risen as much as twice as high as last year. Nut supplies, on the other hand, are both ample and almost unchanged in price.

CRANBERRIES are in good supply in the west and are going onto the market in other sections. Turkeys have not yet appeared in quantity but wholesalers say there will be no shortage.

Japanese oranges, which the war removed from Canadian tables, are reappearing in British Columbia and Alberta. Mincemeat is in good supply.

Manitoba has plentiful puddings at about 43 cents a pound, cake at 75 and turkeys at 45 to 47 cents a pound. There are good supplies of all the other foods associated with Christmas.

SASKATCHEWAN reports plenty Christmas foods at about the same prices as last year. There are no plum puddings on the shelves yet but grocers promise there will be plenty.

Alberta reports much the same situation as Saskatchewan, and in addition has supplies of scarce Japanese oranges.

British Columbia will have to dig deep to eat well, with plum puddings selling at $1.10 a pound and fruit cake at $1.00. Since suet is unobtainable, a mixture of butter and shortening is substituted. Turkeys are plentiful at 56 cents a pound while nuts and raisins are twice pre-war price.

Cameras Grind On Spy Story

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Parliament Hill took on some of the appearances of a movie colony yesterday as actors, actresses, movie directors, extras and technicians moved in to shoot scenes for a motion picture on Canada's spy trials.

The scenes on Parliament Hill will depict the arrival of Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy cipher clerk, at government offices, where he tipped off Canadian authorities to the operation of a Russian-directed espionage ring in the Dominion.

The picture, entitled "The Iron Curtain," will feature Gene Tierney and Dana Andrews in the roles of Gouzenko and his wife.

Gives One Cause Of DC-6 Fires

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Lt.-Col. Henry T. Myers, President Truman's personal pilot, said yesterday tests have shown that recent fires aboard two Douglas DC-6 planes may have been caused by gasoline sucked into the cabin heating system from an overflowing tank in the wing.

All DC-6's, including the president's plane, "Independence," were grounded after the fires. A DC-6 operated by United Airlines crashed in flames on Oct. 24 with the loss of 52 aboard. An American Airlines DC-6 made an emergency landing Nov. 11 at Gallup, N.M., after fire had broken out on the ship.

Myers explained that gasoline sometimes overflows as a result of expansion from heat, or as a result of an accidental overfill during transfer of fuel from one tank to another in the course of flight.

Gasoline that runs into an overflow drain then could be drawn into the air conditioning and heating systems by the flow of air from a "scoop" in the ship's underbelly.

Finnish Police Used in Strike

HELSINKI, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Finnish government, combatting a strike of more than 40,000 civil servants, ordered police yesterday to occupy all postal and telegraph offices to break communications between strike headquarters in Helsinki and the provinces.

An authoritative source said it was also planned to call up all male strikers for "military exercises." (This would place them under control of the army).

Other sources reported the striking civil servants, anticipating conscription, had countered by making military rolls "disappear." They are demanding increased pay.

Municipal employes issued a strike notice to take effect Dec. 20. If the walkout goes through, all public utilities will be paralyzed — including gas, electricity and water supply.

Meanwhile the prospect of any settlement between the Finnish government and the civil servants appeared more remote today, and rumors circulated that Premier Mauno Pekkala was considering compulsory mobilization of some 10,000 strikers.

To Restrict Oil Output

Oil wells in the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oil fields, which obtain their production from the D2 zone will be restricted to a maximum production of 100 barrels a day, while those producing from the deeper D3 zone will be permitted to extract 150 barrels a day according to an order-in-council announced by the provincial government on Thursday.

The order follows the recommendations made by the petroleum and natural gas conservation board which recently declared the Leduc sector to be a "conservation area." The region set aside is eight miles wide at its widest point and is 12 miles long. It includes 23 producing wells.

The new restrictive order comes into effect Dec. 1.

The purpose of the order according to government officials is to "ensure sound conservation in the new oil field."

Some wells, particularly in the D3 zone are said to have been producing nearly double the new maximum barrelage but most of the producers are believed to be producing in the neighborhood of the amount specified in the new order.

Wheat Pool Pays Debt to Province

Total of the Alberta Wheat Pool indebtedness to the province of Alberta, which was $1,900,000 at the opening of the fiscal year commencing April 1, has been paid off by the pool, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings Thursday.

Payment was made from the results of a loan from the Bank of Montreal which will be paid off in annual sums of $300,000 a year. Bank interest on the loan is 2½ per cent, while the pool was paying the government 3½ per cent.

This was an announcement made in Calgary Wednesday by R. D. Purdy, pool manager.

The debt first arose when the bottom dropped out of wheat prices in 1929, with the result that the initial payments to producers were higher than could be obtained by sale of the grain. Pools in all three prairie provinces found themselves in serious financial difficulties as a result and all were forced to appeal to their governments for aid.

The Alberta pool is the first to pay off its government loan.

Gouzenko Tells Red Spy Story

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Igor Gouzenko, testifying in the conspiracy trial of Dr. Raymond Boyer, completed yesterday his document-supported story of a Moscow-organized espionage network in Canada with which the crown is trying to link the accused.

Cross-examination of the former Soviet embassy employe, whose revelations have brought more than a dozen Canadians before the courts within the last two years, was scheduled to start this afternoon.

Dr. Boyer, wealthy wartime national research council scientist and former McGill University chemistry professor, is standing trial for the second time on charge of having conspired to violate the official secrets act. His first trial ended in a jury disagreement.

On the witness stand for the third consecutive day, Gouzenko continued to file, in rapid fire order, the documents he said he took with him when he fled the Soviet embassy in Ottawa in September, 1945, to reveal existence of the spy ring.

The number of crown exhibits produced thus far in the trial, which opened Monday, has reached 89.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Lloyd. Taxpayers Hear Annual Reports

LLOYDMINSTER, Nov. 28.—After he had presented the financial statement for the first nine months of this year's administration of the town of Lloydminster at the annual ratepayers meeting, Dr. G. L. Cooke, the mayor, stated that he had appeard before the ratepayers at such meetings for the past 21 years, first as reeve of the village of Lloydminister, then as a member of the council or as mayor of the amalgamated town, and at the end of his present term he would retire from town affairs.

IN SPITE OF the fact that administration costs were higher in the town, with increased wages, the hiring of a town engineer and a motor grader operator, the statement would bear comparison with any town of similar size in the province.

During the year the town had been successful in selling $85,000 debentures for the new water and sewer systems. During the year new franchises had been entered into by the town with the Canadian Utilities for electric light, and power, and with the Lloydminster Gas Company for natural gas for heat, both at a reduction of rates. Each councillor gave a detailed account of the expenditures and revenues of his particular department of the town administration, and many suggestions for further improvement, to be considered by next years administration body were given, among which were: the purchase of new fire fighting equipment, the removal of fire hazards, a change from business tax to licensing of business, reduction of water rates and a desperate effort to have more hook ups on the water and sewer system in an effort to reduce the rates and installation of water meters soon as they are available.

REPORTS SHOWED a decided increase in the amount of taxes collected during the first nine months of this year compared with the two previous years. Arrears of taxes has for the last few years been one of the items that has given the council of Lloydminster some worry, but that has been removed to a great extent this year.

Willingdon Couple Married 50 Years

WILLINGDON, Nov. 28. — Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Bolan, pioneer residents, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a gathering here recently. Mr. Bolan was born in Newmarket, Ont., in 1865, came west in 1887 and spent a few years in the lumber camps. He homesteaded in the Whitford district in 1892, and in 1897 married Aibia Pigeon, of Montreal. They settled on the farm near Willingdon, 30 years before the railway came through. They have eight children, Wilfred, farming in Willingdon; Anita, nursing in Seattle; Amelia Tiedemann and Irene, at Holden; Clara Turner, of Vancouver; Sister Mary Gertrude, Leoville, Sask.; Sister Marie De Lorrette, of Perigord, Sask., and Alberta, living at home.

Father Strickland proposed a toast to the couple, who received many beautiful gifts including a chesterfield suite from the family. Mr. Bolan still works around the farm each day at the age of 82 years.

Commencing the year with an approximate arrears of $18,000 in tax arrears, that amount has been reduced to $2,400 to date.

The mill rate for 1947 was increased from 42 mills to 49 mills, of which 23 mills are for the public and high school boards. The installation of water and sewer into the public school during the summer accounted for a great deal of the higher requisition from the public school board.

The assessment of the town for 1947 was $1,480,940, but with additional buildings completed this fall it is anticipated that before the first of the year that amount will be substantially boosted.

Fairview Couple Mark 71 Years of Marriage

By Tom Ford

(Reprinted from The Lacombe Globe.)

Two remarkable old time residents of the Fairview district, seven miles northwest of Lacombe, observed their 71st wedding anniversary recently. They were Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Larsen, remarkable not only in living 71 years of married life together, but being in sufficiently good health to attend an afternoon party in their honor at Arbordale school. Both Mr. and Mrs. Larsen are 92 years of age.

THEY WERE MARRIED in Sweden on Nov. 20, 1876, and came to this continent in 1883, settling first in Minnesota.

A personal interview with the fine old couple shortly after lunch yesterday found Mrs. Larsen drying the dinner dishes for her 66-year-old daughter. Their grandson with whom they live, Dan Johnson, said, "Grandma considers that one of her regular chores." She was getting excited about the afternoon gathering.

Mr. Larsen, with a long flowing white beard and a few white hairs on his head, spends a great deal of time reading the newspapers. He usually uses glasses. Outside of a growing deafness, his faculties are all good. He has amazing bright blue eyes.

On being asked through a hearing aid what he thought of the party to be held in their honor that afternoon, Mr. Larsen replied in a low, steady voice that he couldn't think of anything nicer. It was apparent neither he nor his wife considered the event particularly unusual.

"Lots of other people have wedding anniversaries," he said. "I don't know why they go to so much trouble for an old couple."

MR. AND MRS. LARSEN moved to the Lacombe district 20 years ago when they were the "tender" age of 72 years. They had already observed their Golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Larsen used to walk to Lacombe until eight years ago. He was known, at the age of 84, to walk the seven miles to town in two hours.

Seven years ago, he fell on a pitchfork while doing some work in the barn, and has never fully recovered from an injury to his left side.

Mrs. Larsen, a small woman about five feet, four inches in height, is very stout. She has thinning white hair and is a little weaker than her husband. She walks with the aid of a cane. Up to a very few years ago when her eyes started to go bad, she did most of the mending for the household.

"WHAT IS YOUR most pleasant memory in 71 years of married life?" Mr. Larsen was asked. It's all been pleasant, Mr. Larsen replied. Two children, five daughters, 36 grandchildren, 38 great grandchildren, 3 great great grandchildren.

Defend Agreements With Soviet Union

HAVANA, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Two of Russia's neighbors—Poland and Sweden—yesterday defended as economic necessities their bilateral trade treaties with the Soviet Union.

Speaking before the fourth plenary session of the United Nations conference on trade and unemployment, representatives of the two countries said they could not afford to abandon their agreements with the Soviet Union until their own internal economic affairs improved.

Poland said she was subject "for political reasons" to a "credit blockade" by unspecified western powers who "muster the sources of international investment capital."

Stanislaw Raczkowski, chief of the Polish delegation, said that "in view of the actual economic situation of the world" it might be better to postpone the introduction of permanent rules governing the international trade organization, launching of which is the goal of the present conference.

Tentative Agreement

Central Government For All of Germany

By Wes Gallagher

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Britain, the United States and Russia agreed last night, informants said, on the necessity of quickly forming a central government for all of Germany. Russia balked at creating a commission to study Germany's final boundaries.

OVER THE protests of Britain and the United States, Foreign Minister Molotov declared that so far as Russia was concerned eastern German territory up to the Oder and Neisse rivers was ceded to Poland and required no further study. The Potsdam conference placed this territory under provisional Polish administration "pending final determination of Poland's western frontier."

Conference sources said that Britain, the United States and Russia reached a tentative agreement that a German government should participate in any peace conference and ratify any treaty.

Despite apparent wide areas of agreement," it was said none of the Big Four turned up anything new enough in their positions over those outlined at Moscow last spring to indicate any break in deadlocks on main issues. The ministers are attempting to draft peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Marshall, Bevin and Molotov stressed the need to form a central German government as soon as possible. Bevin, however, warned such a government should be created in a way that it would neither become a "puppet" nor lead to a "dictatorship."

AT MOSCOW last spring the Big Four also agreed on the necessity of a German government but disagreed on how it should be formed. Russia held out for a highly centralized semi-police state machinery, while the western powers wanted a federal structure with guarantees for individual freedoms.

In general Russia wants to hold treaty making to 19 selected countries, including Albania, while United States opposes Albania and wants to include all those who declared war on Germany, South American countries in particular.

Blind Marksmen

BRIGHTON, Sussex, England, Nov. 28. — (Reuters) — Sir Ian Fraser, war-blinded member of parliament, opened a rifle range for blind veterans yesterday by hitting the target just outside the bull-eye. He was using an electronically-controlled rifle which guides the marksmen by oscillations through headphones or loud-speaker.

Eleven men were ordered held for trial in Buenos Aires on charges connected with an alleged plot to assassinate Eva Peron, wife of Argentina's president. The judge said there was evidence the assassination had been planned as a step toward an armed uprising against the government.

Pinning Down North Pole Is Big Job

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Not content with pinning down the north magnetic pole for the summer, the Dominion observatory is establishing a temporary station at Baker Lake, 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg in the Keewatin district of the North west Territories, to observe the fluctuations of the pole in winter as well.

This information came yesterday in a resources department announcement which said John Clark of Bounty, Sask., and Weldon Hannaford of Ottawa, were scheduled to leave Winnipeg yesterday on the first flight to Baker Lake, where they will be quartered with a detachment of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

The former accompanied Paul Serson of Ottawa last summer on an airborne expedition which placed the magnetic pole in the area around Prince of Wales Island, about 200 miles north of the point normally marked on maps as the north magnetic pole. Their studies confirmed that the pole jumps erratically about in an area of radius 50 miles.

The temporary observatory being established at Baker Lake will note changes in the earth's magnetic field in order that accurate magnetic charts of the Canadian Arctic may be constructed for air navigation purposes.

Thirteen Die In Plane Crash

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A twin-engine air transport carried 13 persons to death in a pre-dawn crash yesterday as it approached the Yakutat village airport for a scheduled landing.

The DC-3, operated by the Columbia Air Cargo Company of Portland, Ore., crashed two miles from the mile-long airport after radioing at 4:30 a.m. for a straight-in approach. Joe Dobbins, president of the company, confirmed that all of the 11 passengers and two-man crew were killed.

Yakutat is about 200 miles northwest of Juneau and about 350 miles west of Anchorage, from which it had departed. It was headed back for seattle and Portland after picking up seven passengers at Fairbanks and four at Anchorage.

The Columbia firm is one of several that operate in Alaska and between Alaska and the States on a non-schedule basis. It has been operating since May, 1946.

Two wartime pilots were at the controls. They were Pilot Jay Haworth Jr., 26, and Co-Pilot T. A. Keranen, 27, both of Portland.

Haworth flew with the Royal Canadian Air Force during the Second World War. Later he transferred to the United States air force, was first an instructor, then served operationally in the South Pacific. Keranen, his co-pilot, flew the "hump" route into China during the war.

The passengers were: Harold Ames of Longview, Wash.; Ralph Chinella and Edward Novans of Seattle; Ed. Marek, of Seattle and Anchorage; T. S. Morgan, Fairbanks; Hugh Walbert, Spokane, Wash.; Donald C. Smith, Denver; A. E. Miller, Seattle; J. T. Jinkins, Milwaukee, Ore.; Betty Carter, Portland; and R. M. Murdock, La Salle, Ill.

Kept Nets, Fish

BARI, Italy, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The captain of the port of Bari said last night that Yugoslavs last Sunday forced 22 Italian fishing boats off Molfetta, north of here, to go to the Yugoslav island of Vis (Lissa). He did not say how they did so. The fishermen later were allowed to return with their boats and reported that the Yugoslavs had kept their nets and their fish, the captain said.

Questioned

PARIS, Nov. 28. — (Reuters) — Lieut. Jean Mueller, airman son of Admiral Emile Muselier, was detained for questioning by police last night after an attempt on the life of Gen. Leon Monteclay, officer commanding the third air region of France.

Admiral Muselier was commander of the wartime Fighting French Navy.

To Help Build Roads

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Eight public roads administration engineers will leave the United States for Turkey tomorrow to help build a national system of modern highways.

Should Not Pay Passenger Loss

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Railway freight shippers should not be compelled to subsidize passenger losses, British Columbia contended yesterday in opposing freight-rate increases before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

C. K. Guild, senior counsel for the Pacific province at the national freight inquiry, declared the Railway Act of Canada would not permit the fixing of "unjust and unreasonable" freight tolls to cover large losses in passenger departments.

He estimated the Canadian National railways last year had lost $22,000,000 and the Canadian Pacific, $20,000,000 in their passenger departments — the railways have claimed they could make an exact computation — and he declared freight-payers should not be "saddled" with this burden.

Mr. Guild urged the board to deal with freight on its own merits and "let the chips fall where they may" as regards other departments. Parliament or the railways themselves could find the solution to the passenger problem.

On the question of financial need generally, Mr. Guild said the railways had failed to prove their case for more revenue.

Like other provincial counsel, he argued that the CNR should not be taken into consideration in evaluating financial need because of its debt-burdened financial structure.

Christmas Seals save lives.

Escapee Caught

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Michael Patrick Mulligan, 21, fugitive from the Brampton, Ont., jail yesterday was sentenced to two years in penitentiary after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering.

He said in court that he had been sentenced to nine months in May, 1946, but had escaped from Brampton where he was in custody. He was arrested in Vancouver while driving a car allegedly stolen in Windsor, Ont.

Some Inconveniences

Marshall Plan Is Costly But Vital, Says Official

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(BUP)—The administration's long-range European recovery program will mean some higher prices for American cars and longer waits for cars and other scarce products. But the alternatives to helping Europe "would make your hair curl."

That's the view of a high-ranking government official who is closely associated with the preparation of the so-called Marshall Plan, cost of which has been estimated at up to $20,000,000,000 over a four-year period.

"Unless we help Western Europe rebuild its economy and resist Communism," he said, "it will mean that the U.S. eventually will have to spend much more for defense and put up with more and greater inconveniences."

If the Marshall Plan is adopted, he said, the drain on U.S. resources inevitably will cause some price increases at home.

Hardships will result. The amount of products available to Americans probably will be cut by 10 or 15 per cent. This means, he said, that some of us will have to wait longer for new cars, new refrigerators, washing machines and other products.

Nevertheless, this official said, Americans should beware of proposals to slash the proposed assistance program too much.

"If a person is drowning 50 feet off shore there's no use throwing him a 35 foot rope," he said. "It would be better to let him go."

Minimum Retail Milk Price Unlikely

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)— A possibility that a minimum retail milk price will not be set by the board of Public Utility Commissioners during its sessions in various Alberta points was indicated by G. M. Blackstock, KC, chairman of the board.

The three-and-a-half day Calgary hearing here to obtain the views of producers and distributors on their application for higher milk prices to cover current high costs, ended Thursday in the city hall.

Mr. Blackstock said Wednesday he had been "toying with the idea of removing price controls on milk as far as the consumer was concerned." It would mean setting a price which the producer would receive for milk delivered to the dairies, and allowing dairies to set the price to the consumer on a basis of competitive sales.

Thursday, L. Y. Cairns, KC, counsel for the board, said total profits of ice cream and butter departments of dairies should be taken into consideration when the price of milk was adjusted.

Quebec Will Buy West Seed Oats

QUEBEC, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Quebec seed board after a special executive meeting urged yesterday that Quebec farmers' organizations place as early as possible orders for seed oats needed next spring, estimating that the province would have to buy from the prairie provinces "large quantities" of seed oats for the 1948 season. It noted that federal agricultural department information was to the effect supplies could be obtained from Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Continue Parties

LONDON, Nov. 28. — (AP) — Buckingham Palace announced yesterday that the King and Queen will continue the practice of giving summer afternoon garden parties at the palace next year, instead of holding court formally as before the war.

To Gilbert Isles In Tiny Sailboat

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Three men in a 35-foot gaff-rigged sloop with bright new canvas are in Vancouver planning to sail to the Gilbert Islands to do missionary work among the natives.

Jack Maier, Harold Gray and Marvin Norsted, all of Bellingham, Washington, pooled their life savings to purchase the vessel and came to Vancouver where they hope to obtain aid from groups sympathetic with their missionary work.

Maier was adrift 32 days in a small lifeboat with 15 others after a transport was torpedoed in the South Pacific two years ago. During their 1,875-mile trip to the Gilberts, first land they sighted, Maier said he decided that his life had been saved to bring religion to the island natives.

Not Resuming Talks in Moscow

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, is not going to Moscow to resume Anglo-Russian trade negotiations at present, despite many reports that he would leave shortly.

Wilson told the House of Commons yesterday that the British government is willing to resume negotiations as soon as a reasonable basis can be found.

"But in the meantime both governments feel that further discussion should first take place through diplomatic channels. These discussions now are proceeding," .

BRADFORD, Yorks, England, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Charlie Whittle, 73-year-old veteran of British music halls, died Thursday. Whittle made popular such hits as "Let's All Go Down the Strand," "Have a Banana" and "Fall In and Follow Me."

Enlistment Age For RCAF Is Cut

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.(CP)—Enlistment age limit for recruits into the RCAF has been lowered from 18 to 17 years, provided the recruit obtains approval of his parent or guardian, defence headquarters announced yesterday. Authorization also has been given for a similar move in the army, but at present the army does not plan to bring the lower limit into effect. The minimum age limit for the navy remains unchanged at 17½ years.

Training of homing pigeons starts when they are about four weeks old.

Say Gold Bonus Is Insufficient

OTTAWA, Nov. 28. — (CP) — A committee representing the Canadian gold mining industry will meet tomorrow with Reconstruction Minister Howe to discuss mining problems.

While there was no official indication of the agenda, it was understood the mining men would stress that a bonus payment of excess production recently announced by Finance Minister Abbott would be insufficient to stimulate production.

Mr. Abbott announced that the government planned to pay the mines $7 an ounce on every ounce of gold they produced in excess of their output for the year ended June 30 this year.

Celebrate Birthday

LONDON, Nov. 28. —(Reuters)— Conservatives in Britain on Sunday will celebrate the 73rd birthday of their leader, Winston Churchill, by sending donations to their party's fund for fighting the next general election, a party statement said yesterday. The party appealed for £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) in October.

Death and Damage

Auto Drivers In B.C. Must Behave—Or Else

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Attorney-General Wismer last night told British Columbia motor drivers "they must mend their ways or get off the roads." Visitors too, he said, must do the same.

IN A RADIO broadcast address, the provincial cabinet member explained amendments to the British Columbia Motor Vehicle Act, changes passed at the last session of the legislature and operative next March 31.

The new regulations are "tough," he said, "but the tragic figures of death and damage on our highways demand tough action."

The amendments provide:

1. Suspension of drivers' licenses where damages judgments have not been paid.

2. Impounding of automobiles and suspension of the right to drive where drivers in accidents are unable to produce either cards or financial responsibility or proof of public-liability insurance coverage.

3. For reciprocal arrangements with other provinces and states. Strangers to the province are liable to the same regulations.

4. The method of establishing one's financial responsibility in event of accident.

Plan Honor Memory Red Fife Originator

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Nov. 28. —(CP)—The memory of David Fife, who developed hardy Red Fife wheat, may be perpetuated in a memorial in Peterborough County's Otonabee township where Fife lived as a pioneer. County council yesterday decided to seek federal and provincial assistance in establishing the memorial. When settlers moved into the west, they took with them the early-maturing, rust-resistant Red Fife which became the ancestor of improved varieties now in general use in the prairies.

Just An Error, But City Broke

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—(AP) —The bookkeeper who made that error in the Indianapolis city accounts was no piker. The mistake was for $330,000.

As a result of the error Mayor-Elect Al Feeney, a democrat, will take over a city that is busted on Jan. 1 when the republican regime goes out.

C. S. Ober, city controller, who announced the error, said that Indianapolis has $330,000 less cash on hand than the books show. He blamed "sloppy, haphazard bookkeeping" and said no money is missing.

Ober said the city could pay its bills up to the end of the year but would have no cash to start 1948.

Feeney, who will investigate, said he was "surprised."

Stop Deliveries

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Nov. 28.— (Reuters)—Striking farmers stopped supplies of fresh milk to hospitals here yesterday following government refusal to grant an increase of eight cents a gallon for milk.

Expect Clarification

Import Ban Is Work For Border Officials

OTTAWA, Nov. 28. —(CP)— Government officials, scrambling to adjust themselves to the hastily-imposed import ban affecting Canada's advantage, are learning at first hand the implications of the adage about the exception proving the rule.

WHEN THE bars dropped last Nov. 17, with the announcement of a lengthy "austerity" list of barred imports, the starting gun went off for a host of "special case," commercial corporations and individuals alike, who were caught unprepared. And the list of appeals and applications for special treatment mounts by the hundreds daily.

The appeals are pouring into customs, trade, finance, reconstruction departments. Most of them are directed, either primarily or eventually, to the newly-established Emergency Import Control Division of the finance department headed by K. W. Taylor, who succeeded Donald Gordon earlier this year as head of the dwindling prices board.

Some clarification of the broad policies involved in the decisions of the emergency division is expected to come today when Mr Taylor holds a press conference at the parliamentary press gallery.

MEANWHILE, the customs branch of the revenue department is hiring some 200 extra personnel to handle the extra work involved in enforcing the new regulations.

Approximately half of the new appointees are women, especially appointed to handle personal searches of women crossing the border. Most customs inspectors previously were men and personal examinations were comparitively easy.

The new employees will guard against illegal exports of money leaving the country and ensure that no imports of banned goods come north.

THE SPECIAL cases, which are being kept confidential, may range from that of a small Canadian dealer who just managed—before Nov. 17—to complete an order in the U.S. for a shipment of now-banned goods as shelled oysters, pulp magazines, liquorice sticks, outboard motors, coffins, firecrackers, or radios, to large dealers and larger shipments.

Under the restrictions, nobody in the U.S. can send a Canadian a Christmas present if it is on the banned list, unless it costs less than $5.

Cannot Invade House Precincts

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)— Permission to "shoot" movies for a Hollywood spy picture inside the House of Commons, either in the Commons chamber or elsewhere, has been denied an American film company (Twentieth Century-Fox) it was learned last night.

Shooting of the film (The Iron Curtain) was begun yesterday by a Hollywood location crew who arrived in the Capital and scenes were taken on the lawns and walks of Parliament Hill.

But when the film executives attempted to move into the House of Commons to shoot scenes inside, they were politely told by Commons police that they could not take such pictures without written permission from Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent.

At Mr. St. Laurent's office it was learned that the film company will be given exactly the same privileges in Canada as any American tourist but no more.

It was intimated that no special assistance or co-operation would be given in filming a picture which might have international repercussions.

The spy film is based on Canada's recent Royal Commission investigation of Russian spy activities in the Dominion and subsequent court trials.

Announce Ceilings On Expenditure

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 28.— (CP)—A ceiling of $268,000,000 on Australian expenditure in Canada and the United States for the current financial year is planned by the federal government, it was learned today.

Further slashing of imports from dollar areas will include a 20-per-cent cut in Canadian newsprint, making a total cut since September 2 of 50 per cent.

Restrictions will be placed on the imports of tobacco, films, automobiles, trucks and machinery when the cabinet meets Dec. 8 in an effort to bring expenditures below the ceiling level.

More and heavier cuts are expected later in the financial year— which ends here June 30—should rising prices in Canada and the United States cause spending to exceed to budget estimate.

No accurate balance can be made of the gap in the dollar deficit owing to the present uncertainty of American wool buyers on the Australian market. Without the proposed new cuts the position indicates a deficit of more than $190,000,000.

Popular Striker

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—M Desfourneaux, France's official executioner, yesterday joined the current strike wave. He refused to guillotine eight condemned men. He demanded the safety of a government chief of police and bonus for every head severed by his guillotine.

Big Increase

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)— The population of the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut metropolitan region was estimated yesterday by the regional plan association at 13,500,00, an increase of more than 1,000,000 over 1940.

Members Must Keep Long Hours

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 —(CP) — A source close to parliamentary procedure said yesterday the commons likely will be asked to hold three sittings a day shortly after the session begins Dec. 5 to speed consideration of legislation which must be passed before the year's end.

He said the morning, afternoon and evening sittings likely would be inaugurated Dec. 9 and continued until Dec. 19, tentatively set for Christmas adjournment.

In that time parliament will be asked to extend the expiry date of the emergency powers bill from Dec. 31 to March 31. The bill was so framed that if parliament met in 1947, the authority under which the government controls domestic rents, prices and other things would expire Dec. 31. If parliament did not meet this year the authority continued until March 31.

The legislators also will have to ratify the Geneva trade agreements and tariff concessions which come into force Jan. 1.

The government is expected to ask members to sit from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., with brief adjournments for lunch and dinner.

Ordinarily at the start of a session the house sits from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m., with a two-hour break for dinner. Three sittings a day are not inaugurated until the latter weeks of the session when a drive is made for adjournment.

Court Denies Appeal Motion

REGINA, Nov. 28—(CP)—Saskatchewan Appeal Court yesterday refused permission to the Saskatchewan Labor Relations Board to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada on an earlier appeal court decision. The decision had quashed a board order certifying a Regina Trade Union.

Chief Justice W. M. Martin said there was no evidence that the appeal was a matter of great public interest.

The original decision had termed "unwarranted and irregular" the board's action in certifying the Regina Undertakers Employees' Federal Union as bargaining agent for nine employees of Speers Funeral Home.

The board had certified the union after its executive officer H. S. Elkin investigated the case and told the board a majority of employees were in favor of the union. Mr. Justice H. V. Bigelow in court of King's Bench quashed the order on the gourds of bias and his decision was upheld by the Appeal Court.

Bill Durnan Blanks Toronto Leafs 2-Nil

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP)— Montreal Canadiens handed Toronto Maple Leafs their second shutout of the year on Montreal ice last night, winning a hard-fought, rugged battle typical of the two teams, 2-0.

The victory put Canadiens two points in the National Hockey League standing behind Leafs and Boston, tied for second place behind Detroit Red Wings who lead the parade by three points. There were all the trimmings to last night's Canadiens-Leafs affair, except a heavy run on penalties. Canadiens drew four of the seven penalties, one a misconduct penalty to Maurice Richard on top of a minor for elbowing Bill Ezinicki of the Leafs.

IT WAS A close-checking game all the way and Canadiens in the final checkup stood up a trifle better than the Leafs. Both Bill Durnan who racked up his third shut-out of the season, and Turk Broda turned in excellent performances, with Durnan holding the edge.

Kenny Reardon, Canadien defenceman opened the scoring late in the first period, snaring a loose puck near the Leaf defence after Canadiens' punch line of Elmer Lach, Richard and Toe Blake had forced Broda into a great save.

BLAKE NETTED Canadiens' second, driving home the puck that came to him from Lach and Richard on another smart combination attack, Richard passing perfectly from near the Leafs' goal.

The Apps-Watson-Ezinicki line gave Durnan most of his worries. Max Bentley was their best aggressive checker in an all-checking game, and Wally Stanowski played a strong defensive game.

CANADIENS pulled a surprise by sending out Lach and Richard with helmets, the first time Canadien players have donned the headgear. It looked as if Canadiens pulled it for psychological effect, with the skull fracture to Lach of last year against the same Leafs in mind.

Both the Canadiens' goals were scored while the teams were at full strength.

The attendance was 11,115.

Gnup May Quit Hamilton Cats

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 28.—(CP)—Frank Gnup, former Manhattan college star, left yesterday for New York, indicating he might not coach Hamilton Wildcats in the Ontario Rugby Football Union race next summer.

"Right now I am looking over a job in the United States and if it is as good as I think it is I will just return to Hamilton to say good bye to my friends and pull out again for New York," said Gnup.

Short-Handed Bruins Nipped 3-1 by Wings

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Stopping Boston Bruins for the third straight time this season, Detroit Red Wings tightened their National Hockey League lead last night by slapping the short-handed Bruins 4-1 before 12,856 fans.

Boston, caught short when its veteran centre Milt Schmidt became ill with intestinal flu yesterday morning, still was without defenceman Jack Crawford, who has been out of action almost a week with a bruised instep, and played with only 13 men — three under the maximum allowed by the rules.

DETROIT stepped out ahead on Ted Lindsay's first period goal from Sid Abel's pass across the goal mouth and although the Bruins caught up momentarily in the second stanza on Joe Carveth's goal, they never led.

Jerry Couture batted in a rebound shot off Pat Lundy's long one late in the middle period and 52 seconds later Lundy faked and feinted his way in on Frankie Brimsek and hammered Detroit's third goal into the nets to put the decision on ice.

THE RED WINGS scored again midway through the final period when Pete Horeck lifted his stick to deflect defenceman Jack Stewart's long shot from the blue line into an open side of the cage.

The licking was Boston's second in as many nights and dropped the Bruins a game and a half behind the league leaders, who haven't lost to Boston this year. That left the Bruins deadlocked for second place with Toronto, which lost to Montreal.

Boston — Brimsek; Egan, Martin; Taylor; Carveth, Dumart, [illegible], Sandford, Flaman, Gallinger, Harrison, Smith, Wilson, [illegible].

Detroit — Lumley; Quackenbush, Stewart; McFadden; Horeck, [illegible]. Subs: McCaig, [illegible], Lundy, Howe, Couture, Abel, [illegible], Conacher, Kelly.

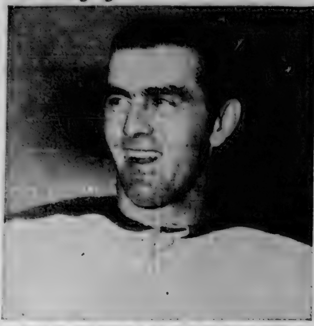
He's Smiling Again



Maurice "Rocket" Richard had been in the scoring doldrums for a while, but he has picked up five points in his last three games. The assist on Toe Blake's tally, which gave Canadiens a 2-0 win over Toronto Thursday, broke the deadlock between "The Rocket" and Syl Apps. Richard now leads the NHL race with 21 points. Rookie Jim McFadden and Ted Lindsay of Detroit have moved into a tie with Apps, all with 20. Gee of Chicago and Elmer Lach of Montreal follow with 17. Blake has 16.

Toilers Whip Bearcats

Precision Hoopsters Top "Y" Redbirds

A four-way tie for leadership of the Edmonton Senior Men's Basketball League resulted last night, when Dale Maine's Precision Machine whipped "Y" Redbirds 54-42, and "Y" Toilers slapped the winless Varsity Bearcats 36-27 in a cage twin bill on the Eastwood gym floor.

With the victory, Precision moved into a first-place tie with LDS, RCMP and the "Y" Redbirds in the still young cage league. Each team has won two games and lost one.

LANKY DON Blue and Steve Mendryk, an all-round athlete who recently chucked his studies at the University of Alberta, each sinking the oval for 13 points, sparked the Precision crew to the triumph.

Redbirds went into the game with two straight victories to their credit, and while leading by a 26-23 count at the end of the first half, looked as though they were out to make it three in a row. However, the Precision squad had other ideas as they came through in fine style in the last frame, shooting 31 points through the hoop, while holding the "Y" team to 16.

TRICKY ROY Chobotuck packed the scoring punch for the Redbirds, arching the leather through the basket for 14 points. Fred Cramer's nine point shooting also stood out for the losers.

In the second tilt, a nip and tuck affair that supplied the 75 or so fans with plenty of thrills, the "Y" Toilers moved to within a single game of the league leaders with a second half splurge.

THE COUNT was all even at 16-16 at the half-way mark, but then the roof fell in on the Bearcats, as Toilers suddenly came to life, sniping 10 baskets, while holding Varsity to 11 points.

Ron Chapman set the scoring pace for the winners, coming up with 10 points, while Guy Cubitt notched seven, and Gordon Woodman six. Lowell Williams and Tom Mayson led the Bearcats attack, netting 10 and six points respectively.

May Take Over

Jack Manson, spare goalie for Flyers, left for Saskatoon Thursday night and will be in the Edmonton net against Quakers tonight in the event of Al Rollins not being able to play. Jack, former Maple Leaf junior, was with Flyers last season.

Banner Event Planned

Banff Carnival Set For February 12-15

BANFF, Nov. 28.—The Banff Winter Carnival will revert to its pre-war arrangement of four consecutive days of carnival this winter rather than being spread over four or five week-ends as has been the case in late years, it was decided at a general meeting of the carnival committee in the Banff auditorium last evening. Dates set for the 1948 carnival are February 12 to February 15 inclusive.

Young blood was the order of the day when the meeting elected the new slate of officers to direct the destinies of the 1948 Winter Carnival. Albert Keyeth was elected chairman; Bus Rivett, secretary; Jack McDonald, treasurer, and Scott McGillvray and Bud Gourlay, directors.

MEMBERS OF the newly-formed Banff Junior Chamber of Commerce and service clubs as well as other local organizations were present and offered their assistance to make the 1948 Banff Winter Carnival the best yet.

The service clubs, athletic clubs and other organizations were each asked to appoint a member to the council of the committee.

The meeting set the second week-end in February as the annual date of the carnival, and appointed a committee of three to investigate possibilities for financing future carnivals.

Rollins Leaves Regina Hospital

REGINA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Al Rollins Edmonton Flyers' goaltender, was discharged from hospital last night and was scheduled to leave for Saskatoon with Coach Frank Currie.

But it was not known if Rollins would be able to participate in tonight's Saskatoon-Edmonton Western Canada Senior Hockey League game.

He was admitted to hospital with a stomach ailment midway in the second period of a game against Regina Caps Wednesday.

Coach Frank Currie of the Flyers advised via long distance Thursday he was unable to say if Rollins would be in tonight's game. He also said that Freddy Smitten was a doubtful starter for tonight.

Smitten incurred a wrist injury during the Saskatoon game Tuesday and did not take part in the Regina league fixture the following night.

"NERVES" She Called It

Losing interest—losing friends—she never went out any more—always too tired. "Nerves", she thought—but it was her kidneys—the filters of her blood—that needed attention. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills at once. The improved action of her kidneys helped to clear away blood impurities and excess acids. Fatigue, backache, headache, lack of energy disappeared. Dodd's Kidney Pills contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients that act directly upon the kidneys—and help restore their normal action. 144

Mercurys Run Over Bears To Gain Lead

King Glitters With 3 Goals In 5-1 Victory

Frank Coulson's Mercurys, displaying more polish behind the opposition blue line where it counts most, came roaring from behind in the second period last night to defeat University of Alberta Golden Bears 5-1 and climb to the top rung of the Intermediate Hockey League ladder.

Elusive Jimmy King spearheaded the Mercurys with three clever goals, with Marsh Darling and Bill Dawe sniping the others. Harry Hobbs, who is rapidly gaining his old-time form, netted the only Varsity tally, with Bob Colburn setting up the play.

THE HARD-FIGHTING Bears held their own in territorial play in the fast moving first period and waddled off with a 1-0 lead. However, the smoother Mercurys shot into a 3-1 advantage in the middle frame and added a couple more without a reply in the third.

Tempers flared in the second and third periods and at one time there were five men in the cooler at the same time.

GANG ATTACKS featured the first period, with first the Bears appearing to have the upper hand and then the Mercurys. Stellar work between the posts by Ross Jefferies and Don Murray, newly acquired Mercury goalie, were largely responsible for keeping the score down.

Harry Allen and Bill Dawe failed to penetrate the Bears' fort on a clean break and Allen and Darling had the same opportunity minutes later, but were unsuccessful.

BEARS FINALLY clicked near the end of the period, Harry Hobbs getting his stick to Colburn's bouncing shot and deflecting the rubber into the twine.

Bill Gauf and Darling hit the post from close in before Jimmy King and O'Neill combined for the tying goal. O'Neill's spurt past the defence carried him beyond the goal, but his pass was perfect and King slapped the rubber behind Jefferies from a few feet out.

HARRY ALLEN came through with what proved to be the winning goal three minutes later. Stewart's sizzler was blocked by Jefferies, but Harry swept in fast to scoop it into the goal before the net-minder had a chance to clear.

Shortly after Bob David had been waved off, a general melee started and when the lads had been separated O'Neill, Jack Ingram, Sam Soldan and Archie Hardy were given a chance to cool off.

DARLING and Dawe combined for the last goal of the period. Dawe laid a pretty pass on Darling's stick and the latter pulled the goalie out and neatly finished off the play.

Bespectacled Jimmy King completely fooled Jefferies after the third frame had been in progress about six minutes, taking Bill Gauf's relay at the blue, skating in fast and picking the far corner from a sharp angle.

JACK INGRAM and Jim Fleming took a sudden dislike to each other and turned pugilistic for a brief moment. Both received five-minute penalties for their brief, but action-packed show.

King clinched the game at the 12-minute mark with a fine piece of stick-handling. He gained possession inside the blue, crossed in front of the goal-mouth and slid the puck into the net when Jefferies came out.

Mercurys — Murray; Stuart, D. Gauf; Kilburn, Warin, Cragg. Subs: Allen, Dawe, Darling, W. Gauf, King, David, O'Neill, Ingram.

Varsity — Jefferies; Soldan, Cameron; Lyons, Fleming, Younger. Subs: Colburn, McQuay, Hobbs, Case, Quigley, Hardy, Krebal, Boyse, Sinal.

Officials — Cam Smith and Johnny Melnyk.

Early-Footed Stamps Outscore Leafs 5-3

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Calgary Stampeders, capitalizing on defensive lapses by Lethbridge Maple Leafs in the first period, defeated Leafs 5-3 here Thursday night in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game played before the largest crowd of the season—about 3,300.

The second-place Stampeders, with 18, now are within four points of the league-leading Regina Capitals, who have 22. Lethbridge is in third place with 14. Saskatoon Quakers and Edmonton Flyers follow with 12 and 10 points respectively.

DON CULLEY, with two goals, led Stampeders' scorers. Ken Stewart, Doug Cairns and Tony Demarais scored one each. Rimstad, Maxwell and Heximer tallied for the Leafs.

Although Lethbridge outshot Calgary in the first period their drives were innacurate. Stamps took advantage of poor defensive work to whip in three goals by the time the session was over. Leafs meantime were hitting the goal posts and missing the net by inches.

STEWART opened the scoring with a shot into the corner by the Leaf cage from about 20 feet out.

Then Cairns, left in the clear, made it 2-0 for Stamps with a long shot. Freddy Hergert went off for kneeing, and Russ Dertell made sensational saves on four shots in a row.

Bill Gibson nicked the tip of Dertell's stick to miss what looked like a sure goal. Then, with Dertell out of the net, Ken Simpson hit the goal post with a sizzler. At the 15-minute mark Demarais took Stewart's pass to score. As the period ended, Rimstad and Bob Kirkpatrick both muffed scoring chances for the Leafs.

LEAFS' ATTACKING efforts paid off early in the second frame when Rimstad golfed a pass from Nordin past Dertell at 2:34. The Leafs pressed and had the best of the play, making the score 3-2 when Maxwell came from behind the net and poked the puck past Dertell.

Mallie Hughes made a sparkling save on Devicq's shot, and Dertell did the same when Gib Nordin tested him. Only seconds later Hughes robbed Don Culley of a score before the roaring crowd.

IN THE THIRD, Culley scored on a relay from McDonald and Stewart at 4:35. Boorman went off for boarding, and within seconds Culley zipped in and took Stewart's pass to make it 5-2.

Leafs exerted steady pressure, but Dertell surpassed himself by stopping eight shots in the dying minutes of the game, letting only one past when Heximer batted a pass from Latoski into the net.

Calgary—Dertell; Hergert, Stewart; Hunter; Brownridge, Grant. Subs: Emery, Wilder, McDonald, Devicq, Culley, Dame, Demarais, Cairns.

Sharp-Shooter

Jimmy King who played with Edmonton Canadians last season, was in a goal-scoring mood last night as the Mercurys chased the University of Alberta Golden Bears 3-1. Jimmy netted three goals, including the tying marker early in the second period.

Pen Quakers Unbeaten

Texas Longhorns Gain Berth In Sugar Bowl

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Thanksgiving Day college football menu in the United States provided at least one opponent for the major New Year's day post-season classics when Texas Longhorns defeated Texas A and M 32-13 Thursday and immediately jumped into the vacant Sugar Bowl spot.

The once-beaten Longhorns thus were matched against Alabama for the 1948 show at New Orleans which will bring together high-ranking teams from the Southwest and Southeastern Conferences.

BY PREVAILING over the Aggies before a crowd of 41,000 at College Station, Texas also gained a chance to tie Southern Methodist in the Southwest Conference race.

In the east's big game, Pennsylvania whipped its traditional Ivy league opponent, Cornell 21-0, to give the once-listed Quakers their first unbeaten season in 39 years.

At Richmond, Va., William and Mary, already tabbed as one half of the Dixie Bowl at Birmingham, kayoed University of Richmond, 35-0 to clinch the Southern Conference championship.

Edmonton Cagers Wetaskiwin Bound

It will be basketball night tonight in Wetaskiwin. Three visiting clubs will be entertained by the enthusiastic Alexandra High School sports committee. The Camrose High School girls play the Alexandras at 7.30 p.m. in the preliminary and at 8.30 p.m. the Commercial High "Stenos" and the High School "Co-Eds," both from Edmonton, supply the action in the second game.

Clare Hollingsworth, coach of the Stenos from Commercial High, will be directing the following players: Dell Wilson, Eleanor McIntosh, Olive Williams, Elsie Koles, Ginny Gibson, Iris Hagerman, Shirley Latta, Wilma Waddington, Mona Smith. Coaching the Co-Eds will be Art Skitch, and he has selected his team as follows: Pat Stephens, Mona Creighton, Silvia Calder, Betty Miller, Joyce Weastell, Margo Fitzsimmons, Helen Mendryk, Margaret Gauthier, and Gloria Watson.

Bob Layton is coach of the Wetaskiwin team.

Aussies Taking Food to Olympics

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 28. — (Reuters) — Australia's Olympic Games team will take a double ration of food to London next year. Half will be for its own use and the other half for British competitors at the games.

The secretary of a special subcommittee of the Australian Olympic Federation, formed to cater for all food needs of the Australian and British teams, said that Britain had been asked to give details of the foods most urgently needed by British athletes and the reply was for meat, fats, milk, cheese, eggs, fruit and sugar in that order.

Solinger Scores Pair For Barons

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Fred Thurlee and Bob Solinger scored two goals apiece last night to lead Cleveland Barons to a 7-2 American Hockey League victory over Springfield Indians. George Allen, Dan Sprout and Robert Gagne snared one each. Bill Gooden and Paul Mourteau did the scoring for Springfield.

Tops Williams By One Vote

Yankee Clipper Wins Most Valuable Award

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. — (AP) — Joe Dimaggio, star centre-fielder of the world champion New York Yankees, yesterday won the American League's most valuable player award for 1947, by the narrowest possible margin, one slim vote, over Ted Williams, the circuit's batting king.

Dimaggio, who previously had earned the most valuable honors in 1939 and 1941, compiled a total of 202 votes to 201 for the Red Sox slugging outfielder in the vote of 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America for the Alexander Mountain Landis Memorial award.

THE BALLOTING for third place also was decided by one point with Lou Boudreau, shortstop-manager of Cleveland Indians nosing out Joe Page, left-handed relief pitcher of Yankees, 108 votes to 107.

In gaining his one-point margin over Williams, Dimaggio joined Jimmy Foxx, former Red Sox and Athletics slugger, as the only three-time winners of the MVP award.

THE YANKEE clipper topped the field in first place votes, being named on top in eight ballots. Page was No. 1 man on seven ballots.

Dimaggio wound up the regular season with a .315 batting average, 20 points below William's league-leading .343, and drove in 97 runs on 168 hits including 20 home runs. In each of these departments he trailed Williams who annexed the triple crown by copping the RBI and home runs leadership in addition to the batting title.

IT WAS Dimaggio's great team play and courageous work under extremely adverse conditi n that caused the writers to lean toward him. The star, who celebrated his 33rd birthday last Tuesday, underwent a heel operation during the winter and entered the line-up when things weren't going so well for the Yankees, despite the fact his injured heel had not fully recovered.

It was not until after the season ended that it was learned he had been bothered by an ailing throwing arm that caused him extreme pain whenever he was forced to make a hurried throw. He recently underwent an operation for the removal of a growth on his right elbow.

Rumor Michaluk Returning False

CALGARY, Nov. 28. — (CP) — Cecil (Tiny) Thompson, chief scout for Chicago Black Hawks, stated here Wednesday evening he "knew nothing" about rumors floating around the city of Art Michaluk returning to play with Calgary Stampeders. Thompson was taking in the junior hockey game between Calgary and Medicine Hat.

WHEN ASKED how Michaluk was getting along with the NHL sextet, Thompson replied:

"He's doing okay but doesn't seem to be getting as much chance to play as he could be given."

Yesterday morning, Dave Duchak, Stampeder manager, stated that the rumor was "false and unfounded."

There are a lot of clubs besides Calgary that Bill Tobin could send Michaluk to if he wasn't playing up to par," commented Duchak.

Asked if Calgary had tried to obtain the product of Canmore who performed on the Calgary defence for two years, Duchak replied in the negative.

Our Town

By JACK SCOTT

In the Pit

A new party of adventurers, including three brothers named O'Hanlon, from Vancouver, will set out in early January in search of the pirate treasure of Cocos Island.

Any news of this kind sets my diluted blood a'bubbling on the bob of dreams. I walk around in a daze imagining myself with a black patch over one eye and a wooden leg. Abaft your mizzen mast, mates! Foreclose the after poop, my hearties! That's the way I get.

I was so interested in reading this particular story the other night that I accidentally burned myself on my hot-water bottle.

This agitation was not inspired merely by the details of the Cocos Island expedition, but by the reminder that if I had the courage of a small titmouse I'd have been on a treasure hunt myself long before this time.

It may surprise you to know that right here in Canada we have one of the most promising pirate's treasure ever sunk beneath a gnarled oak. Even if it doesn't surprise you, it certainly surprised me one day on the crowded deck of the troopship Mauretania, steaming slowly out of Halifax Harbor.

I had become buddies with a fellow-sergeant named Larsen, who came from the town of Truro, Nova Scotia. Larsen was a pink-cheeked giant who had been a miner in civilian life and, to went by the nickname "Hard Rock." I never knew his first name.

We stood at the rail of the ship getting our last look at Canada. "Hard Rock" Larsen was looking north. "Theres a small island a few miles north of here," Larsen

Technocrats Won't Contest "Election"

Suggestion that the Technocracy Inc. study group on the University of Alberta campus would contest election for the university's mock parliament was denied Thursday by D. J. Jorgenson, secretary of the study club.

D. J. Hoff, president of the group, was named as a party leader in the campus election, but there is no intention on the part of the Technocrats to enter the campaign.

Protestant League Growing Rapidly

Dr. T. T. Shields, president of the Canadian Protestant League, was main speaker at a public meeting attended by approximately 350 persons at the Beulah Tabernacle Thursday night.

Dr. Shields told the congregation that membership in the League was growing rapidly and expressed the hope that many members of the audience would become members of the league.

He thanked members of the church for the privilege of using the church for the meeting and expressed his thanks for the large attendance.

He said he had met with many previous difficulties in obtaining a large enough place for meetings. He said in Ottawa he was refused the use of the main ballroom of the Chateau Laurier for a meeting, and when he finally obtained a hall many people had to stand outside to hear the addresses by a public address system.

"But," he said, "during the Marian Congress the same room we had been denied the use of had 38 idols placed in it and was used as a place of worship by the Roman Catholics. Too many churches today are scared of a frank and open statement against the Roman Catholics."

Producers Seek Increase

Suggests Milk Subsidy Paid By Governments

Subsidization of milk by senior governments to enable low income bracket families to obtain adequate supplies for their children was advocated by Dr. G. M. Little, Edmonton's medical officer of health, at sittings of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners hearing an application from milk producers for a milk price increase compatible with the recent increases in production costs.

HE MADE this suggestion when questioned regarding the effect of price increase in milk to the consumer. He considered subsidization would be necessary to sustain adequate supplies to families in the low income brackets. He said that an adequate supply would be 1½ to 2 pints daily.

Asked concerning decreasing butter fat content of milk, Dr. Little said it would be better to decrease butter fat content than to decrease the amount of milk being consumed.

Evidence was adduced on the decrease in spread on the sale of cream and sub-standard cream, which showed that the spread on sub-standard cream had reduced from 10.43 a pint in 1941 to 8.382 in 1947, a decrease of 2.048 cents a pint, and that cream spread had dropped from 8.74 cents.

H. O. Patriquin, chartered accountant, giving evidence for three distributing firms in the city, told the commission in answer to a question by T. E. Garside, KC, city solicitor, that combined deliv-

City Motorist Receives Award

Medard Desrosiers, of 10727 127 street, was the winner of the final safe driving award of the year. Mr. Desrosiers showed driving skill and courtesy while operating his vehicle.

Although the courtesy campaign ended Sept. 30, the Edmonton Safety Council, in line with its policy of year-round safety education, has been making weekly checks of driving habits. It has been found that cold weather, poor visibility, and slippery streets do not cause many drivers to use greater caution. Too great reliance is placed on brakes in circumstances where brakes will not hold. Hand signals are often forgotten.

Services of Polish Vets Satisfactory

Services of Polish veterans working on Alberta farms had been satisfac'"y, H. M. Putnam, director of extension and member of the Dominion-provincial farm labor board said Friday.

"Of course, there are nearly 300 of them in the province, but out of that number only about a dozen have demonstrated unfitness for life in Canada," he said.

More than two-thirds of them are still employed on the farms to which they were originally allotted, Mr. Putnam pointed out.

There is no difficulty in placing the veterans who are being released from the sugar beet area at the present time, he said. One hundred and eighty-six of them have been located on other farms and applications are still coming in for more.

said. "Two million pounds in gold are buried on it. If I get back here in one piece I'm going to have a crack at it."

The History

By the time the Mauretania crept through the fog of Liverpool harbor six days later I had made a solemn pact with "Hard Rock." I would join him on the expedition. I was convinced that the treasure lay there, I still am.

The story of Oak Island, lying about 50 miles south of Halifax, is a familiar one in the Maritimes and has been since the beginning of the last century. At least ten parties are known to have had a try at it. "Hard Rock" Larsen had talked with some of these adventurers. He had a plan.

The legend began nearly 150 years ago. A party of hunters visiting that lonely uninhabited isle, made a strange discovery in a clearing back from the beach. The branch of an old oak had been sawed off. Beneath it was found the decaying remains of a block and tackle. When they started to dig they found they were clearing out a pit. At 30 feet, lacking the necessary equipment, they were forced to abandon the work.

A later expedition continued on down to 90 feet. At that point the pit flooded. What's more, it flooded with salt water that rose and fell with the Atlantic tide! Bailing the pit out was hopeless. Again the fortune-seekers saw their work frustrated.

Later another expedition bored into the pit experimentally. Their augur encountered oak planking, passed through a layer of loose metal and brought up a number of small gold pieces. But still there was no way of overcoming the mysterious seepage of the sea.

The idea then grew that this water was, in fact, a man-made trap. Many years later another party, incorporated as a company and with $100,000 working capital, actually located the entrance of a horizontal tunnel, but never mastered the secret that would unlock the treasure.

And the Plan

Not all this was hearsay. "Hard Rock" Larsen assured me. Some of it, yes. The story that a stone had been found bearing the inscription, "Two million pounds buried here," could never be proved.

But he had talked with men who had stood in that clearing on Oak Island and who knew that gold had come out of there and that a pit wasn't dug there just to bury old bean tins, and "Hard Rock" had the fever.

He must have told me his plan a dozen times on that rough and dismal crossing. He was a miner.

He knew the engineering of tunnels. The plan would be simplicity itself. Simply the blocking off of that subterranean tunnel — and there were the gleaming doubloons.

Financing? Sure it would take money. But why not a company of veterans, using their gratuities and their hands? It sounded wonderful.

The war carried "Hard Rock" and me into different paths. I never heard from him again. My own post-war dreams changed from week to week. At one time I was sure I was going to make a million reviving miniature golf. That was the way you thought when you had too much time to think.

As it turned out, of course, I came back to the same old thing (with no complaints whatever) and the memory of that treasure fever cooled down. Perhaps "Hard Rock" Larsen has cooled down, too.

Or maybe this very night we are sitting at opposite ends of the country brooding about a great shifting pile of gold coin that lies aroun in the tidal waters of the Oak Island pit.

Varsity Players Score Success

University of Alberta drama society's first production of the year was presented Thursday night in Convocation Hall on the campus. The society offered Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset" a powerful three-act imaginary sequel to the ill-starred Sacco-Vanzetti case of the 1920's.

The university players chose an exceedingly difficult production for Anderson's play is packed with the tenseness and emotion so characteristic of the writings of American playwrights during the Great Depression.

Most notable job of acting was done by James Linn, as a 70-year-old half-mad judge. He gave an admirably smooth performance throughout the play.

The leading roles of Mirrianne, played by Donna Cross, and Nio, portrayed by Dick MacDonald, were done well. Their parts, those of a bewildered teen-age girl who has fallen in love with a young man, attempting to avenge the death of a father executed for a crime he did not commit, are two of the most difficult attempted by University actors in recent years.

Special sets designed for the play by Prof. R. G. H. Orchard of the University fine arts department added much in setting the proper mood. Lighting, under the direction of Norman Parry, com-

Cows Get Ride To Yellowknife

Six contented registered Holstein cows came as close as the bovine family yet has come to jumping over the moon and residents of the flourishing gold-mining community in Canada's far north will have an assured supply of fresh milk following a unique feat of aerial transportation recently.

The six purebred cows, contentedly chewing their cuds, were loaded aboard a Canadian Pacific Air Lines Douglas DC-3 cargo plane at Peace River the other day and flown to Yellowknife.

According to the pilot, the cows "enjoyed" the flight immensely.

Combined weight of the cows was 6,000 pounds.

The property of C. C. Bevan, who operates a general produce business in Yellowknife, the cows were purchased in Peace River and flown to Yellowknife in a few hours.

The animals were lined up, facing the forward cockpit, three to each side of the plane.

Mrs. Bevan, wife of the Yellowknife merchant travelled with the animals as aerial "cow wrangler."

Mr. Bevan was the first man to bring cows to the mining town, having shipped in three by boat

Demonstrate Use Of Light Planes

VAN NUYS, Calif., Nov. 28.—(AP)—Those "round-the-world cub" plane pilots said yesterday they've proved the dependability and utility of the personal-type plane.

"If we can fly the world, any person can fly any place in the United States," said 20-year-old Saskatchewan-born George Truman, now of Los Angeles.

He and his fellow flier, Clifford Evans, 27, Washington, D.C., Wednesday night landed their diminutive air cruisers on United States soil for the first time in nearly four months, completing the last leg of the trip with a 1,275-mile hop from Lethbridge, Alta.

Appeal Allowed To Privy Council

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Leave was given by the British Columbia Court of Appeal yesterday to take a dispute between the British Columbia Power Commission and the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Co. Ltd., to the Privy Council in London.

The court recently sustained Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson's dismissal of the commission's appeal from evaluation of $1,870,000 set by the American Appraisal Co. for the expropriated property of the Vancouver Island power concern.

Valuations approximating $3,600,000 on the assets of West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation and Columbia Power Co. also are disputed by the power commission which contends they should be about $1000,000 lower.

The commission contends that $1,600,000 was a fair price in the Vancouver Island case, but Mr. Justice Wilson ruled that its appeal was "out of time" on a technical objection.

Take Big Cargo

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP)—The seasons last grain ship, the former flat-top Empire Mackendrick, is expected to dock next week, port authorities said yesterday. She will attempt to get a 350,000-ton cargo of grain out of the port before the freeze-up.

Mutual Aid Treaty

SOFIA, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Bulgaria and Yugoslavia signed yesterday a friendship and mutual aid treaty.

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

COUNTRIES OF CENTRAL AMERICA

South of Mexico are six little states and a British colony, together known as Central America. The climate of Central America is varied. It is hot in the lowlands near the coast, cool higher up in the hills, and really cold in the mountain regions. A good deal of rain falls.

Fruit Dispatch Company

Millions of bunches of bananas are grown in Central America and Mexico each year. The banana industry gives employment to large numbers of workers on the plantations, railroads and shipping lines.

Much of the soil is extremely fertile and one finds many varieties of crops. There are dense forests with many kinds of valuable trees. In the rugged mountains there are vast deposits of ore.

The first settlement in Central America was made in 1502 by Columbus in what is now the country of Costa Rica. Other settlements followed, and by 1525 most of the Central American territory had been brought under Spanish rule. It was organized as a province called Guatemala, and was put under the rule of a military official, known as a captain general. (The present Central American republic of Panama, however, formed part of the South American province of New Granada).

In 1821, Guatemala declared its independence of Spain. For a time it was united to independent Mexico under Agustin I (Iturbide). When he fell, the Central Americans formed a federated republic; this lasted until 1839, when it broke up into the five republics of Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. Since that time there have been various attempts to restore some sort of Central American union, but these attempts have met with no success.

British Honduras, a part of the British Empire, was settled originally by the English in the latter half of the 17th century. The wealth of the forests soon attracted many settlers, and this colony, known at that time as Belize, became a flourishing one.

The Spaniards made several attempts to drive out the English in the 18th century, the last attempt being made in 1798. At last the Spaniards desisted. From that time to this, Belize, now known as the crown colony of British Honduras, has had a comparatively tranquil existence, ruffled occasionally by boundary disputes with Guatemala.

There were only five Central American republics until 1903, when Panama became the sixth.

The strip of land had been a part of the Republic of Columbia since 1821. In 1903, however, the Panamanians revolted and established a republic of their own.

The newly formed republic granted the United States the right to construct the Panama Canal. The Canal Zone, over which the United States now has permanent control, is a strip of land ten miles wide, extending across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Joyce Mary, six and one half months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pilling of 11644 124 street.

The brand new mother is certain, when she brings her baby from the hospital, to feel a terrible sense of bewilderment and a lack of knowledge. There is so much to be known and so little that she does know. She fears that every move she makes may be a wrong one.

It is at this moment that she should fortify herself with the soothing conviction that what she does have in abundance is love for this baby. If she will express this in a natural way she will not go far astray. This does not mean, mercy no, that she is to hover over the child and cater to his every whim. This would grow too arduous for her, and would be unfair to the child. He could not live up to such emotional demands.

But, there is no reason, either, why she should be afraid to pick up the baby, to hold or cuddle him, to sing or rock, if the occasion demands it, though not as a regular preliminary to sleep. This baby is no small toy to be stuffed into some mold of the mother's construction, but a child with a personality all its own, even from birth, whose personality should receive attention and admiration from the parent.

All of this runs somewhat counter to old-time advice which was to make the baby comfortable and leave him alone. Such advice is representative of modern methods of which the self-demand schedules for eating and sleeping, the Rooming-in programs in some hospitals, are examples.

And this love and praise and admiration should not end with infancy. It has come to be recognized everywhere that in dealing with children the greatest influence for good is to show them that they are dear and precious to the parent. The naughtiest child will respond, eventually, to the parents consistent belief that he is really a fine lad, even if his behavior is not above reproach. A child must feel that his parents have faith in him, then there is some inspiration for reform.

Love and faith in the individual have proved their worth in the education and the discipline of mentally defective children; and with incorrigible children placed in institutions. How much more easily they can be used with one's own child and by parents who by blood and responsibility are certain to have his best interests at heart.

Our leaflet, No. 66, "Why Children Steal" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Choose New Chief Fire Department

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Vancouver's "Mr. X"—the next fire chief—has been identified.

A city council committee yesterday said he is Capt. H. M. Pinkerton, and that he will succeed Chief A. E. Condon as fire department head when the present chief retires in 1950.

Two weeks ago, when casting about for a man to fill the position, the committee drew up the qualifications for the job, named whoever could fill the bill "Mr. X" and then set about finding him.

The committee announced Capt. Pinkerton was one of eight whose qualifications for appointment were examined.

He will be third assistant chief until 1950.

Urge Steps to Keep Trained Men Here

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—The Agricultural Institute of Canada Thursday adopted a resolution asking that steps be taken to see that trained agricultural scientists graduating from Canadian universities are absorbed by provincial and federal agricultural services. Opportunities should be provided to prevent them from going to the United States and other countries.

Members of the council attending the meeting included Dr. H. D. Sinclair of the University of Alberta and H. S. Fry, associate editor of the Country Guide, Winnipeg.

Pretty Stowaway

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 28.—(AP)—A pretty French bride who hid for 16 days—and lost 15 pounds—in an 18-inch high rope locker aboard a tanker on which her husband is an oiler, was reported as a stowaway by Captain Berger L. Vixen when the Choctaw Trail docked yesterday. The girl's husband brought her food and water while she was hiding, Vixen said.

B.C. May Ban Kiddies' Toy Guns

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—"Cops and Robbers" games with toy guns looking too much like the real thing soon may be outlawed in British Columbia.

Unofficially, it is learned at the legislative buildings that consideration is being given to legislation to ban the sale of toy pistols and tommy-guns.

Police records are said to show that all too many youngsters who read "gangster comics" and indulge in mock stick-ups and gun battles, graduate to the real thing with tragic consequences when they reach late teens or early twenties.

Thought now is being given to prohibitions on salacious and gangster-type literature because of its influence towards juvenile delinquency.

DOROTHY DIX says:

High I.Q. Not Always Guarantee

The greatest desire of every young girl's heart is to be popular with the boys. The thing that she yearns for, more than anything else on earth, is to be whistle bait; to have lads call "oh, you queen!" after her as she goes down the street; to have dates to burn; to be walked home from school, and if she fails to receive these attentions from boys, life is cinders, ashes and dust to her. No matter what misfortune befalls a girl in later life, there is nothing that ever happens to her that makes her feel so disgraced and desperate as to be a wallflower at a party.

Now inasmuch as the sexes seem to be about evenly divided and there are as many boys as girls, it would appear that every little bobby-soxer would be able to get her Jo-John; but, alas, such is not the case. Kissing goes by favor. To the girl who hath dates, other dates shall be added more abundantly, and to her who lacks dates shall be taken away even the one poor little date that she has.

What is the secret of popularity that makes the boys swarm around one girl like Lees around a honey-pot, while another girl is left by her lonesome? No one knows. Trying to solve the mystery is merely guess work. Looks have something to do with it, but not as much as is popularly believed. All of us know beauties who never have a boy friend to bless themselves with, while her homely sister can pick and choose among the bunch.

Nor does a girl's I.Q. get her anywhere with the boys. On the contrary, feminine brains are seldom men's dish. A brilliant girl nearly always cuts her throat with her tongue, and, as a rule, the girl who is at the head of her class is at the foot of the invitation list to the proms.

Nor is popularity for sale over the counter. Money is more of a handicap than a help to a teen-ager, so far as having a good time is concerned. Boys fight shy of rich girls because they are not in their class and can't afford to take them to the swanky places of entertainment. They feel they can't ask a millionairess to eat a hot dog with them, or go to a cheap dance place, no matter how much she would enjoy playing around with the gang. It is a matter of record that there are more old maids among the very rich than there are among any other class of women.

What, then, makes for popularity in the teen-ager? First, I think, is simplicity. Naturalness. Being what she is, instead of posing as something she is not. An unsophisticated young girl is a darling. One who pretends to be a blase woman of the world is a pain in the neck, and she is particularly unattractive to boys because they are also young and unworldly wise and do not know how to handle her.

Next as an aid to popularity is friendliness to which every human being responds. Then comes adaptability, fitting oneself to fill any sort of niche, learning to play a good game of cards, to dance well, to cook up a nice meal, to do anything and everything that makes one easy to get along with and pleasant to have around, instead of being a bore and a pest.

Just being a nice girl is really the secret of popularity with boys and a guarantee of dates.

$40,000 Price Tag Put on 80-Foot Tree

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A $40,000 price tag had the city temporarily stymied today in its efforts to cut down an 80-foot elm tree described as an air traffic hazard.

The elm belongs to Karl Olsen, who set the price for the tree, six acres of land and his house after refusing to allow the city to chop it down and pay damages.

The city must have it removed before the civil aeronautics administration will permit use of a new "blind" landing system through which planes will be guided down at the municipal airport by radio beams.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "The calves of my legs ache. I know I have poor circulation. Could you give me an exercise which will be soothing and at the same time mildly reducing? The calves are a little bit large."

A. Do this exercise: Lie on the floor on your back. Legs are straight and arms are on the floor at your sides. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Grasp your ankle with both hands. Slowly straighten your left leg while you allow your fingers to move along the leg. Hold onto the leg with some resistance so you will massage it as it straightens. Do the same thing with your right leg and then alternate. If you have pains in your legs you should see a physician because this can come from nutritional deficiences or systemic trouble. It may also be due to fallen arches.

Q. "I am a girl of thirteen years. I am 5 feet and 7 inches tall. Have I reached my full height or will I get taller?"

A. Girls vary in the age at which they reach their maximum height. You may have reached your full height early or you may yet grow taller. Usually full growth is not achieved by the age of thirteen. Girls mature sooner than boys and you may be able to guess by taking a look at your inheritance in height.

Q. "I am nineteen years old, 5 feet 1½ inches tall, weigh 103 pounds. My waist measures 23¼ inches, bust 32½ inches and hips 33 inches. I would like to loose weight but do not know where I should. I would appreciate your advice."

A. My advice is to thank your stars for a practically perfect figure. Your measurements are lovely and you are not overweight. In fact, you are a little underweight for your age.

Q. "I have lost weight successfully through your advice about diet and exercise. I now weigh 120 pounds and am 5 feet 6 inches tall. I am sixteen years old and my measurements are, bust 34 inches—waist 24 inches—hips 35 inches. Are my weight and measurements correct or should I continue with a diet?"

A. You are not overweight and your figure must be beautiful. I think you should gain a little of that weight back, five pounds anyway. Eight might be better. It depends on your boney structure.

Q. "Will olive oil enlarge the legs if I rub it on every day?"

A. No, but it will keep them smooth in the winter time.

Have you reached your full height? You can only guess along with Actress Gloria Henry, if you are a young girl. It's hard to tell at what age a person will reach full height.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

The bidding shown today is exactly the way it occurred at the table when Phil Abramsohn of Hollywood, Fla., and Morrie Elis of New York played the hand. It was one of the hands that helped them win the Metropolitan knockout team-of-four championships with Tobias Stone and Mrs. E. J. Seligman.

There was discussion as to the correct line of play on this hand. East made the toughest possible opening, and Elis (North) was forced to win the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs. Although the heart finesse might appear to be the percentage play to win, it would have lost in this case, and East and West would have cashed two more club tricks.

Elis decided to cash the ace and king of diamonds, on which East played the four and three of diamonds. Elis felt sure that this play was made to fool him, and that East had another diamond, so he cashed the diamond queen.

Then he had to decide whether to play East or West for the king of spades. Having already located the king of clubs in the West hand, East should have the king of spades, so Elis discarded a club on the queen of diamonds.

Now he had to get over to his own hand in order to take the spade finesse, so he led the queen of hearts and overtook with the ace, to unblock the heart suit. There was also the possibility that if West had the king of hearts, he would cover. Elis risked the loss of the king of hearts, went up with the ace, and was surprised when East dropped the king.

He had no further problems then, as he simply picked up the trumps, went over to the ace of spades, and discarded his losing club on a diamond.

Thus, regardless of subsequent discussions as to which line of play had the best chance of winning, Elis made seven odd.

Ask Amendment Seditious Libel Law

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Two Labor members of the House of Commons, Sidney Silverman and Barnett Janner, yesterday pressed Home Secretary James Chuter Ede to amend the law relating to seditious libel as a sequel to the recent case in which a newspaper editor was found not guilty in regard to a newspaper article criticizing the Jewish community.

There were some cheers when Ede replied: "When I have the full official report I shall consult the Lord Chancellor and law officers of the Crown as to whether it is necessary to take any steps to bring the law into line with what most people thought it was."

Urged to expedite the matter, Ede promised that "no time shall be lost."

Youthful Party Games Are Fun For Everyone

You don't need a horse or the old church tower to play "Paul Revere's Ride" and it's a wonderful ice-breaker to start a party rolling.

Ask any of your fun-loving guests to be Paul Revere. Then show him the obstacle-strewn path he must cover to spread the news. On the floor—a glass of water, a tomato, a hat, a roller skate. Permit him one practice run through them.

Then blindfold him and while he is being twirled around, quietly remove the obstacles. Now sit back and watch the cautious progress of the blindfolded "Paul" warily stepping across the empty floor, shouting "The British are coming!" as he goes.

For testing ingenuity, divide your guests into two teams and pin two pieces of paper to the wall. The first player in each line rushes forth, writes a word and gives the pencil to the next one. The object: Which team can write the most intelligible sentence in the shortest time.

There are other word games, fortune telling stunts, and parlor magic tricks for every occasion in our Reader Service booklet No. 60, along with hints on invitations, prizes and forfeits which help make a party successful.

Missing Poles Likely Stowaways

HALIFAX, Nov. 28. — (CP) — Whereabouts of two members of a group of Polish immigrants who left employment in Alberta and came here in September still remained unknown last night but it was generally believed they had succeeded in stowing away to England.

The other two members of the group were discovered hiding aboard the liner Aquitania and received jail terms of six months each for trespassing.

A search for the missing pair failed to turn up a trace of them and a newspaper reporter who has talked with the group recalled that they had told him of their intentions to stow away because they were dissatisfied with their farms jobs in Canada.

Threatens Supply Lines

Tribal Horsemen Make Swift Night Raids

ASKHNUR, Kashmir, India, Nov. 28 — (Reuters) — Night-riding tribal horsemen making swift raids deep within the Southern frontiers of Kashmir last night threatened the supply lines of Dominion of India forces pushing southwest from Kotli to relieve the besieged Kashmir state garrison at Mirpur, 25 miles away.

THE MIRPUR garrison was reported holding out, although air reconnaissance yesterday found western Mirpur in flames.

The horsemen, threatening the Indian forces' extended and precarious line of communications along a 25-mile stretch of the border country between the west Punjab and Askhnur, were identified as Pathans and Moslem tridesmen of the frontier province.

Brandishing torches and shooting from the saddle, they have sacked, burned or shot up dozens of villages, terrorizing Hindus, Sikhs and Moslems alike, and have penetrated to within 30 miles of the Jammu winter capital, where Maharajah Sir Hari Singh has been in residence since the initial outbreak of trouble.

THE MAHARAJAH is Hindu, although the bulk of his subjects are Moslems. He acceded to the predominantly - Hindu dominion of India rather than to Moslem Pakistan when India was partitioned.

The strength of these mounted tribesmen has been put by local reports at up to 10,000 men and they have ranged from Rajouri 40 miles south of Kotli, where another garrison of state troops is still under siege, to Jammu.

An army officer estimated that more than 200,000 refugees have appeared in this area with in the last 48 hours.

CBC Governors Board Commences Hearings

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 — (CP) — Officials of the CBC met privately yesterday to prepare for the board of governors meeting here today and Saturday when applications for new radio station licences and other matters will be considered.

For the second time since the CBC was established in 1936 some of the board's discussions will be open to the public. The first public meeting was held in Calgary in September.

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board said the board would hear all representations on applications for broadcasting licences or for changes in CBC regulations.

The board will start off with a public session today when it may will discuss at least some applications for new standard radio stations. More than a half-dozen applications for frequency modulation radio station licences also are pending.

Some existing stations have asked for permission to increase their power, to transfer shares, to set up emergency transmitting equipment or purchase equipment that could be used to broadcast from areas where there are no wire facilities.

Applications for licences for new radio stations include:

1. David M. Armstrong who wants to establish a 250-watt station at Victoria, B.C.

2. Saskatoon Broadcasters limited, who wants to establish a 250-watt station at Saskatoon, Sask.

The board hears the representations after complete technical data on the proposed stations has been sent to it by the transport department. Following the representations the board decides whether it should recommend granting of licences.

The recommendations of the board likely will be held in reserve and announced some time after the meetings have been completed.

Denies Story General Strike

ROME, Nov. 28 — (AP) — The Italian General Confederation of Labor, which is Communist-led and has nearly 6,000,000 members, denied yesterday that preparations were under way for a general strike in Italy.

The statement was in reply to reports in the rightist press that a country-wide strike was being planned for Dec. 1 to coincide with a similar movement in France.

The executive committee on the Communist party said Wednesday reports of plans for a general strike did not "merit a denial."

The federation statement said that the only strike in contemplation was a walkout of city and provincial government employees but that the federation had "solicitously intervened, bringing to the attention of competent authorities the disagreeable conditions of work."

Meanwhile, the ministry of interior, reporting on leftist-sparked disorders throughout the country, said 82 offices of political parties were attacked in the last two weeks. The right wing Uomo Qualunque (Common Man) movement, often charted by the left with being Neo Fascist, suffered the most destruction. Raiders sacked 37 of its offices.

Seven of the headquarters of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democratic Party were laid waste. Nine Liberal Party offices, nine Monarchist, nine of the extreme right Italian social movement's quarters and two Communist party offices were wrecked. One office of the left-wing Labor Democrats was attacked.

Reserve Decision Contentious Case

REGINA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Saskatchewan Appeal court yesterday reserved judgment on the contentious question of the constitutionality of the Saskatchewan Labor Relations Board—Canada's only provincial labor tribunal—and the right of the province to give judicial power to members of the board.

Regarded as a test of the trade union act by which the board is given wide powers to order employees to desist from unfair labor practices, bargain collectively with their employes and to order the reinstatement of wrongfully-dismissed employes, the case is an application by the John East Iron Works Ltd. of Saskatoon for the quashing of a board order.

During the two-day court hearing, Company Counsel E. C. Leslie of Regina contended that although under the British North America Act supervision of labor relations was a provincial responsibility, members of the board were, in effect, judicial officers who could only be appointed by the federal government.

In answer to the argument of Dr. M. C. Shumiatcher, the government's legal advisor who appeared for the labor relation board, that the board was similar to workmen's compensation board and public utilities commission set up under provincial authority, Mr. Leslie argued that those bodies were charged with purely administrative functions. Many labor relations board functions were judicial, he said, and therefore ultra vires of the province.

Measles, although a fairly common complaint in children, is dangerous if the child is undernourished, sometimes affecting eyes and ears and in schoolage children can lead to tuberculosis.

Must Ration Dollars

Believe New Crisis In Dollar Shortage

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—A fresh warning given by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, on the growing shortage of dollars was linked here yesterday with remarks by Prime Minister Chiffley of Australia, and Finance Minister Sir Shanmukhan Chetty of India, indicating there was some new turn in the dollar crisis.

SIR STAFFORD was reported to have told a private meeting of the parliamentary Labor Party that the latest survey by his officials indicated the dollar shortage was acute and that those dominions and other countires which rely on Britain for dollars have been warned to reduce their demands at once.

While London officials said yesterday that any suggestion of imminent collapse or disaster was nonsense, it is believed that Britain's warning to the dominions was reflected in the speeches in Canberra and New Delhi.

BUT ON ALL the known facts, sterling lately has not weakened but strengthened against the dollar.

New York reports since Nov. 1 have indicated Britain has not had to sell any more gold in the United States to obtain dollars.

Sir Shankmukhan Chetty said in reference to imports from dollar and sterling areas that he feared India may have to re-introduce the controls in favor of imports from the sterling area which were removed only recently.

CHIFLEY SAID the position was deteriorating daily with respect to Australia's dollar imports and that the new cuts urged by Britain could not have been forseen even three weeks ago.

"It is very clear that every sterling area must ration itself severely on dollars if the pooling system is to survive," he said.

Indonesia Plea Backed by India

MANILLA, Nov. 28.—(AP)—India yesterday sponsored an application by the Indonesian Republic for associate non-voting membership in the United Nations economic commission for Asia and the Far East.

Delegate R. R. Saksena of India declared that the time has come for transfer of government responsibility to the Republican government.

He took strong exception to the stand of The Netherlands that only the application of the Dutch East Indies as a whole should be considered. The United States chief delegate, Monnett B. Davis, supported the Dutch position.

The struggle between Dutch authorities and the Indonesian Republicans has been dormant for some time pending a report to the UN but The Netherlands has not recognized the Republic's independence.

Earlier, Siam's delegation walked out in a huff, even though member states gave belated approval of seating of representatives of the new coup d'etat government.

Approval of Siam's credentials, 8 to 1, carried the proviso that admission did not imply any step toward diplomatic recognition of the new Siamese government. Russia was opposed and France abstained.

Phenomenal Rise Reported In Violent Crimes In U.K.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—The phenomenal rise in crimes of violence in Britain has caused the government to take sides against those agitating for abolition of the death penalty for murder.

ANNOUNCING the government's decision in the House of Commons yesterday, James Chuter Ede, the home secretary, gave figures to show that crimes like murderous wounding, robbery with violence and rape increased from 1,576 in 1938 to 4,181 last year.

Noting that criminals rarely carried lethal weapons before the war, Ede said there had been a regrettable change in the post-war period and, with police forces still below strength, the government felt that more criminals might be tempted to carry arms if the punishment were made less severe.

Ede's statement was made when he asked the house to approve principles of a new criminal justice bill involving widespread reforms of the penal system.

"THE BILL SEEKS to nationalize and take more flexible methods already available for dealing with convicted offenders and add some new methods," he said.

Describing the increase in charges against young persons as "a matter of the greatest concern," Ede announced that "detention centres" were to be set up for offenders between the ages of 14 and 21. These centres would provide discipline, hard work and education.

For those over 21 there would be imprisonment after previous convictions, a period of training and "preventive detention."

Mystery Musical At Lions Club

A "mystery musical" program was provided for members of the Lions club attending their weekly luncheon in the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

On hand to attend the meeting were six visiting Lions from Calgary.

Bill Anderton was in charge of the program committee, while Jack Miller acted as master of ceremonies.

Performers included Thelma Rice, vocalist, accompanied by Betty Mae Smith; Pat James, vocalist, and Jack Donnistoun, pianist and vocalist.

President Wilson Faulder acted as chairman. Guest entertainers were thanked for their performances by Lion Doug Thomson.

This will be the first time the parliament has been held elsewhere than this city and Calgary. Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge, will be the lieutenant-governor and Don Hatfield, Calgary, will lead the opposition. Membership in the parliament is open to young men of from 15 to 21 years.

Ontario Varsity President Here

Dr. G. E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, London, Ont. is visiting Edmonton in the course of a western tour. Only 39 years of age, Dr Hall is the youngest university president in Canada. He is a doctor of medicine and doctor of philosophy, and holds the Air Force Cross for medical research work in aviation.

Dr. Hall was scheduled to address a meeting of the Medical Under-graduates Society in the Medical Building, University of Alberta, at 4 p.m. Friday night he will attend a dinner of alumni members of Western Ontario University. He visited Dr. Robert Newton, U of A president, earlier Friday.

He is one of the few members of the armed forces who was awarded a fellowship in the Royal Society of Canada. He was appointed dean of medicine at Western Ontario in January 1945, and was made president last July.

Report Shortage Of Penicillin

By PAUL F. ELLIS

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(BUP)—A nation-wide shortage of penicillin, one of medical science's "wonder drugs," was reported today and officials said the situation would become worse with the expected increase in colds and winter infections.

The trouble, according to Dr. Henry Welch, of the Penicillin Division of the Food and Drug Administration, may be attributed to several reasons.

One is the return of many army-trained physicians to general practice. During service, they learned the value of penicillin and are now using it in many cases where previously they subscribed one of the sulfa drugs.

Still another reason—and probably the most important—is the increased dosages. The drug, formerly given in comparatively small amounts, is now administered in greater dosages to bring more effective results.

An official of the food and drug administration said also that this country is exporting more and more of the drug, and that its use in some diseases of cattle further adds to the shortage.

Announce Ruling Muskrat Trapping

Ruling that muskrats may only be trapped under permit and registered trap lines and that coyote bounties would remain at the summer rate of $5.00 each was announced Friday by officials of the department of lands and mines.

Any person taking muskrats other than from a registered trap line—and only then in case he holds a special permit for that purpose—may lose his pelts by confiscation and in addition may be prosecuted. Season for trapping muskrats extends from Nov. 15 to May 15.

The bounty on coyotes was set by order-in-council this spring at $5 until Oct. 31, when it was to be reduced. The recent decision to maintain the winter bounty at the $5.00 rate and allow the hunter to retain the pelt is designed to encourage destruction of the animals.

Woman Burned In District Blaze

Fire on Thursday destroyed the store and post office operated by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCallum on the Pigeon Lake trail, 15 miles west of Millet.

Mrs. McCallum was severely burned on the body and was rushed to the Wetaskiwin hospital, where she received four blood transfusions. Two more transfusions were required and application was made to the Red Cross here and E. N. Graham delivered the plasma to the hospital.

Mr. McCallum and four children escaped from the burning building in their night attire.

Spinach is probably of Persian origin, introduced into Europe about the 13th century.

Cromdale Shelter "Near Poor House"

According to Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Edmonton's Cromdale Shelter is the "nearest thing" to a poor-house.

Dr. Whitton, at the current welfare probe, Friday, referred to a section of the 1936 report on welfare in Alberta, which states the entire Cromdale arrangement is most elementary.

By a "makeshift procedure" of the civic welfare department, a man and his wife were placed in charge as an alternative to relief maintenance, on condition that heating costs of the building are shared and certain cash allowances made for food. The food is provided by public authorities.

It is indicated cost of maintenance was being charged against municipalities concerned at 40 cents and 60 cents a day per child. There is no provision for service, care or training of any kind in the shelter.

Friday morning Dr. Whitton submitted evidence in support of claims of alleged loose handling of administration in the child welfare branch. Dr. Whitton stated there is a false impression on the part of the people, who believe guardianship passes through district court judges.

Dr. Whitton holds it is not in the interests of the citizens or the child concerned to have guardianship handled in such a careless manner.

She admitted that Alberta's legislation provides one of the highest weekly minimums for maintenance but it will be found that public welfare authorities are paying much less than the estimated figure. Also, authorities dicker with the institutions for a rate cheaper than that set by the court.

Milk Subsidy

ery of milk had been tried in other centres, but was not successful. He said the question had not been considered by local distributors.

Concluding his examination Mr. Garside said, in his opinion, the distributors had failed to make out a case for a price increase. He added that a great deal more information should be given the consumers, especially as to the capitalization of the companies, over expansion of plants and other matters.

Mr. Garside could not understand why farmers in the Edmonton district showed considerable keenness in obtaining quotas to ship to city dairies if the dairy industry was in the "bankrupt" condition the consumer was led to believe.

R. H. M. Bailey, appearing for the consumer, interjected that the producer was quite satisfied with prices paid him until the removal recently of controls on coarse grains and other dairy food stuffs. He was only claiming a price increase that would permit dairy operation on a reasonably profitable basis.

L. Y. Cairns, KC, counsel for the commission, questioned Mr. Patriquin on the allocation of costs to three branches of production in the distributing houses, and requested the submission of figures showing the allocation of costs as between these divisions. He said that so far the distributors had failed to establish a case for a price increase.

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Communist advances in Honan in northwest China may force the Church of England in Canada to abandon its mission work in that province in the near future, Canon L. A. Dixon of Toronto, general secretary of the church's missionary society, last night told the Anglican deanery of North Toronto.

Marshall, Bidault Confer on Treaty

By R. H. SHACKFORD

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(BUP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault conferred today and were reported to have discussed France's proposals for the revolution of German peace treaty problems.

The meeting of the French and American ministers was held shortly before the fourth session of the Big Four conference of foreign ministers.

Lewis Douglas, U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, sat in on the meeting of Marshall and Bidault French sources hinted that the subject of interim aid to France was discussed.

The possibility was seen that Marshall would reply today to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's demand for the quick creation of a German government and an early German peace conference.

After Marshall makes his promised statement, the foreign ministers council will decide whether to continue the two-day debate on "preparation for the German peace treaty, including frontiers and procedure," or whether to refer it to their deputies and pass on to the third term of the agenda.

The word "mascot" originated in Provence and Gascony and meant something which brought luck to the household.

Give Demonstration

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Radar apparatus set up on the lawn in front of the national research council building on Ottawa's Sussex street last night was used to give scientists a demonstration in its latest use—the detecting of meteors. Although November is not a month in which meteors are common and none was visible to the naked eye, the radar equipment picked up several flashing across the sky.

Heading For Disaster Says Socred Leader

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Never in recent history has democracy been in greater peril than it it today, Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit party, said in a broadcast over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation nation-wide network last night.

"THE THREAT of war and revolution hangs over a fear-distraught world. Organized scarcity under socialistic administrations, large scale planning organizations and other monopolies are imposing hunger, want and hardships on an intolerable scale. Hatred, intrigue, aggression and suspicion dominate international relations."

Mr. Low said the world is breading for disaster, in comparison with which the ghastly war years will seem like a minor incident.

"War more terrifying than anything mankind has yet experienced, revolution born of hatred and fear, and economic collapse stare us in the face.

"... Only men and women working together in a determined effort can change the systems and the policies which have brought us to our present plight."

The party system has failed to give political democracy and genuine representative government, Mr. Low said.

"LET US UNITE and do away with party machine rule and introduce genuine representative government .... It means introducing a non-party movement under which the people will control parliament.

"... The national Social Credit movement is pledged to help Canadians to organize themselves .... Our concern is results and we seek to destroy centralized power in every form. We are conscious of the seriousness of the situation, and we realize that only by united action by the Canadian people will the results we all want be attained and the menacing situation be overcome."

The president in his annual report spoke of the fine fair held in August. There had been an excellent showing of livestock and the women's department had been very good. He felt that the society would have to attract more people to the fair or reduce the amount of money spent on attractions and offered in prizes.

Mr. Stewart and Mr. Robertson were named as delegates to attend the meeting of the Western Canada Fairs' Association in Winnipeg in January and vice-president John Richards as an alternative. The society will stage its annual horse sale here next spring. The committee to handle the sale will be appointed by the president.

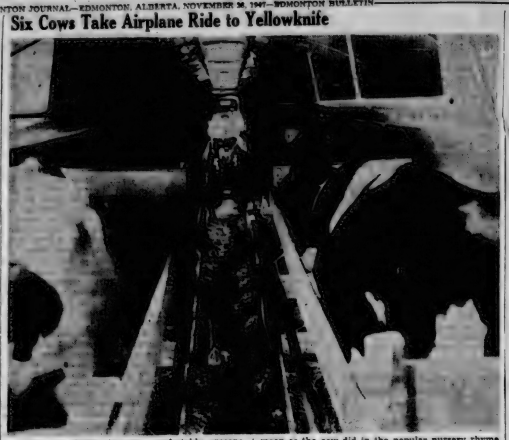
Six Cows Take Airplane Ride to Yellowknife



Above are shown six cows, comfortably ensconced in a Canadian Pacific Air Lines plane at Peace River, prior to taking a long hop to Yellowknife, where they were to be added to the stock of a produce company. While they neither jumped over the moon as the cow did in the popular nursery rhyme, nor even flew over it, they came closer to the brilliant satellite of the earth than the author of the nursery rhyme probably ever thought possible. Denies Remaining In House 3 Weeks

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Mrs. Alexandra M. Potts, 71, who was found suffering from under-nourishment Tuesday evening and taken from her home to hospital, ridiculed the stories of neighbors who said she had not been outside her home for three weeks.

Mrs. Potts said she had been outside her home frequently and that she had been outdoors on the day the police took her to hospital. She also resented the action of police in taking her to hospital.

She has informed visitors that she intended to return to her home as soon as she is discharged from hospital and civic officials say there appears to be nothing to stop her.

Mrs. Potts was reported to be making a good recovery and responding to hospital attention and medical care, and may be released within a week.

Jury's Verdict Is Acquittal

DAUPHIN, Man., Nov. 28.—(CP) —John Hather, 57, charged with the murder of his wife, Annie, May 20, 1947, was acquitted yesterday by an assize court jury. The verdict was returned after 1½ hours of deliberation.

Mr. Justice W. J. Major in his address directed that one of the two verdicts—manslaughter or acquittal—be returned. In his charge, he said, it was his theory, and only his theory, that Hather 'broke' the gun and threw his wife to the floor simultaneously "and that is when the gun went off."

Three City Homes Reported Entered

Three city homes were entered in the same district on Thursday night but nothing more than $5 cash is reported missing from the break-ins. Also reported entered was one of the former US base hospital huts which contains goods owned by the War Assets Corporation.

The trio of house break-ins occurred between 7.30 p.m. and midnight. The reports were received from H. Puchko, 10650 104 street; J. Semkowich, 10609 103 street, and K. W. Goodrich, 10718 102 street. The latter claimed that on arriving home and finding the house broken into he looked down the street and saw two men running away.

The cash was taken from Mr. Puchko's home. In each case the houses were ransacked with drawers pulled open and clothing strewn about the floor.

Police said a pass key was used to gain entry to two of the houses while thieves entered by way of a window on the third.

Two portable radios, two heating cups and one stapler was the loot taken from the War Assets hut. A window was forced open on the building to gain entry.

Alberta Wheat Pool To Pay Near Million

CALGARY, Nov. 28. —(CP)— A cash distribution of approximately $860,000 from excess elevator earnings of the past business year was authorized by Alberta Wheat Pool delegates at their annual meeting here yesterday.

OF THAT total $200,000 will be paid in the form of cash patronage dividend to member patrons of Alberta Pool Elevators in the 1946-47 crop year. In addition a patronage dividend in the form of pool reserves, to the value of around $660,000, will be paid.

The pool reserves will be obtained through the cash redemption of reserves from the estates of deceased members; from members who have attained the age of 65 years on or before Dec. 31, 1947, and who have ceased to farm or to retain an interest in grain producing land; and members who have attained the age of 75 years on or before Dec. 31, 1947, whether they retain an interest in land or not.

If the allocation of $666,000 is not sufficient to clean up these categories the delegates voted an additional sum of $300,000 to do so.

Love of Trumpet Costs Youth Life

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. —(BUP)— Harry Abrams, 17, wanted to be the best trumpet player in the world.

But he had trouble holding the high notes.

I've got to have better breath control," he told his friends. "I've got to be able to hold a note longer."

So he practiced holding his breath. He put on a war souvenir gas mask, stuffed a cloth into the air-intake tube, and sat down to see how long he could go before taking a breath.

Members of his family found him when they went to his bedroom to call him for breakfast on Thanksgiving Day. The coroner said he had suffocated.

Helpless Tanker Now In Tow

KINGSVILLE ,Ont., Nov. 28. —(CP)—A tow-line was successfully attached to the helpless oil tanker Bruce Hudson early today by rescue vessels which had located the small Toronto tanker with its crew of 15 near Point Pelee hours after she had sent out distress calls.

Wireless messages received here said that the line was successfully attached despite heavy seas and a heavy gale, less than an hour before the engines of the Bruce Hudson would have stopped for lack of coal.

The small vessel, owned by Lloyd Tankers Ltd. or Toronto, had been located after a search by the Imperial Midland and the American Tanker Rocket. Which of these vessels had managed to get the towline aboard was not known.

The rescue tug Atomic from Amherstburg was expected at the scene with in a few hours to take over the towing job.

The Bruce Hudson was believed to carry a crew of 15 men. She had sent distress signals out on several occasions saying her boilers were disabled and she was running short of fuel. She had left Port Stanley yesterday for Toledo after temporary repairs had been made Wednesday night.

New Labor MP Wildly Greeted

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Scenes of enthusiasm, unprecedented in the present parliament, greeted Sir Richard Acland, Labor victor in Wednesday's by-election at Gravesend, when he was formally introduced in the House of Commons yesterday.

Labor members stood up cheering and waving their order papers while the new member took the oath, the demonstration continuing for some minutes.

One member waved a potato (opposition to rationing was one of the planks of the Conservative campaign against the government) shouting: "Where is Winston Churchill!"

The opposition was not present and his deputy, Anthony Eden, greeted the demonstration with a good-humored smile.

Ex-Pub Owner, 90 Years Old, Seeking Bride

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(CP) — Ninety-year-old Stansfield Shackleton, former London pub owner, adjusted his bowler hat as he walked ashore from the Empress of Canada today and slyly admitted he was here looking for his fourth wife . . . and a lot of fun.

Oldest of the 700 passengers who disembarkgd here on the liner's last trip of the season, Mr. Shackleton, who almost 60 years ago worked on the joining of the two ends of the Canadian Pacific Railway when the line was first built, admitted a preference for Canadian girls over British but added he would like his fourth wife, if he found one, to be a French-Canadian.

"I could have had lots of wives in Britain," he said "But that was not for me."

Record Number Candidates In P.E.I. General Election

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 28. — (CP) — Seventy-seven candidates, largest field ever to enter a Prince Edward Island general election, were nominated yesterday for the Dec. 11 test at the polls.

In the running for the 30 seats in the legislature were 30 Liberals, 30 Progressive Conservatives, 16 members of the CCF and one Independent Farmer-Labor.

Under the island's election act each party places two candidates in each riding, one to run as assemblyman, and one as councillor. To cast a ballot for a councillor a voter must be a ferryman, a veteran or own $425 worth of property.

Premier J. Walter Jones had to take only a couple of steps to file his papers. The legislature is next door to the courthouse. Dr. W. J. R. MacMillan, Progressive Conservative leader, came down at noon hour and next-to-the-last was George Wotton, youthful leader of the CCF.

Premier Jones, whose Liberal government captured 26 seats to the Progressive Conservatives' 10 in the 1943 election, will be opposed in 4th Queens by M. W. Wood on the councillor ticket. The CCF has no candidates in this riding.

From past general elections and by-elections there was little to indicate how this approaching one would go.

Since 1873 the Liberals have won 12 general elections the Progressive Conservatives eight. In the six by-elections since 1943, the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives each gained one each from the other while four remained unchanged.

The CCF is entering candidates for only the second time and their leader is taking his first fling in the political field. They put nine men in the running in the last general election and with two independents there was a total of 71 candidates.

Anti-Vaccination Stand Starts Row

AYLMER, Que., Nov. 28.—(CP)—George F. Lovett of Aylmer locked horns with Quebec authorities yesterday because he refused to have his four school-age children vaccinated for small-pox.

"My wife and I are conscientious objectors against vaccination," he explained, when authorities banned his children from attending school after they refused to be vaccinated according to Quebec law, which says all children must be vaccinated

Difficulty is that Quebec law also says that children over six and under 14 must attend school, and Mr. Lovett's children include Valerie, 16, Laurence, 13, Alan, nine, and Heather, seven. School authorities here said they thought Mr. Lovett could be brought to court on this ground.

Better Partnership In Homes Urged

TORONTO, Nov. 28. — (CP) — President Sidney E. Smith of the University of Toronto today told the Toronto Rotary club that to develop a finer type of citizenship for Canada "we must encourage and attain a better partnership in our homes, in our churches, in our educational institutions, in our political parties, in our community, provincial and national life, between youth and oldsters."

Citizenship could not be taught by precept alone; it was best learned by doing. Therein lay the value of an active partnership.

"Political parties should make greater efforts to encourage youth not merely to distribute posters but to develop their policies. Shall we leave the field to groups who with false promises would enthuse youth for purposes inimical to the state? That is a stark question for political parties in Canada, on both the provincial and national level."

The strengthening of the family would directly produce better citizens. Schools, colleges and universities could and must play a great part in developing within their students finer attitudes toward the exercise of rights and the assumption of duties of citizenship in a democracy. Citizenship was not so much a subject of instruction as it was a general objective of education.

STIRLING, Scotland, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Food shortages have discouraged those responsible for organizing Burns suppers next year, but the Burns Federation has instructed them to carry on, because the commemoration is more important than the meal.

CAPETOWN, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The 7,000-ton South African freighter President Reitz advised by radio yesterday that she was breaking up on rocks at Cape St. Francis near Port Elizabeth, South Africa, and that Capt. The first boatload of survivors made its way to the American steamship Earlham Victory, which was standing by. Fog hampered the rescue.

Germans Reconciled To Western State

By JAMES DEVLIN

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Western Germans appear reconciled to establishment of a Western German state while hoping the country eventually will be united.

Creation of such a state has long been expected in the event the allied Big Four fail to reach agreement at London on Germany's future.

German politicians — especially Communists—have been emphatic in demanding unity of all Germany, but other considerations rate high with a cross-section of Germans interviewed in the American zone and the Ruhr area in the British zone.

Fear of Russ' participation in affairs of Western Germany appears to be a common denominator among avera, Germans of the west. It is a feeli which coincides with rising American and British popularity nd the apparent waning of Communist influence in the western zones.

People fro. various walks of life gave this expression:

Muc as they are interested in borders, they are more immediately concerned with the same problems that have plagued them for the last two year—food, clothing, housi the revival of industry and reconstruction.

See Bid to Apply Socialism in Japan

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Japanese house of councillors is expected soon to enact a bill to survey some 80,000 Japanese industries and reorganize those with excessive power. The measure is designed to break up industries which occupation officials describe as repressive Japanese economic monopolies.

The bill was formulated under a basic blueprint drafted by the state department and submitted to the Far Eastern Commission. The department yesterday asked the commission to delay consideration of the directive pending "minor changes in wording and a few technical corrections."

It was understood here that this request will not alter the basic outlines of the contemplated reforms or delay progress of decentralization of industries involved. Unofficial sources said the result would be to give Gen. MacArthur broader scope in implementing the directive.

The directive has been called by American critics an attempt to apply socialism to Japan.

Here men rush ashore from the plane in Ulster County where fires are burning over 5,000 acres in the Catskills. The fire fighters carry a walkie talkie radio set (covered package centre) with them. Later this helped save their lives when a pilot spotted a fire cutting them off and radioed instructions on how to escape.

Ingenious Thieving Schemes Harass Troubled Berliners

BERLIN, (NANA) — Berliners look with dread at the forthcoming winter. On one page of their newspapers they read that during this winter none of the Berlin subways, streetcars or buses will be heated. Heating takes too much electricity. Local provincial trains will be heated if the temperature is six degrees below zero. On the next page of their newspaper they read that the monkey house at the zoo will be heated. While Berliners weight the preference, the paper consoles: "The amount of coal used for the Berlin zoo would not supply half an ounce of coal to every person."

But the coal situation occupies everybody's thoughts. A coal truck driving over a bump in the road will cause havoc in the neighborhood. People instantly swarm over the scene, frantically picking up tiny pieces that fell off the truck and put them in their shopping baskets or pocketbooks.

Sidney Brown, a civilian employee of the military government, told a funny story of coal thievery. He is the proud possessor of a police dog which has been thoroughly trained. A stranger dares not pass through Sid's front gate unless he has no regard for the seat of his pants.

Dumped Outside

Last week Brown received a delivery of coal. There was too much to go into the cellar, so the remainder was dumped in the front yard. Looking out of his window one morning, he saw a stranger leaning over the gate and petting the dog. This was fine so long as the stranger remained outside the gate. Presently, the man picked up a stone which he threw into the heap of coal lying in the yard. The dog dashed madly off, scratched around in the coal, couldn't find the stone so brought back a piece of coal instead. This little trick continued until the man had a suitcase full of coal. Then he patted the dog's head by way of thanks and went off with thoughts of one warm evening.

A different and even more peculiar case of thievery recently came up in one of the Berlin courts. A mother had trained her 16-year-old daughter and a boy friend to strip people of their clothes.

At dead of night, down lonely back streets, these two would prowl equipped with a chloroform mask which they would press over the face of their victim. While one held the mask in place, the other disrobed the helpless prisoner. The obedient daughter returned home loaded with clothes. Sometimes the mother, who had a good job as a musician, would be dissatisfied with daughter's loot. She herself would go out with the mask.

Only 'Simple' Thievery

The district court sentenced the mother to eight years in jail for "heavy thievery" and instigation of robbery. The great chamber of the district court revised the findings. It stated that according to law this was not "heavy" robbery. No force had been used. The victims fainted before they had a chance to defend themselves. It was only "simple" thievery. The sentence was reduced to three years.

Berliners are protesting. This law may be correct from the judicial point of view, but it does not fit the situation in Berlin in 1947. The law that differentiated between the common thief and the brutal one was made at a time when streets were lighted and regularly patrolled by police; when people didn't live behind cardboard windows and without locks on their doors; when clothes and food could be bought from any store.

"We don't live in a world any longer where mercy should be shown to a robber because he tenderly chloroformed his victim first instead of hitting him over the head," said one newspaper.

SOUND BETTER

A voluble but h-less counsel was addressing the jury in a "running-down" case. "Gentlemen," he said, "this accident to my client's little 'orse will ruin 'im! The plaintiff's all is in 'is little 'orse!"

The judge, upon whose sensitive ear these constant and unaspirated allusions had grated, could restrain himself no longer.

"Don't you think, Mr. Blank," he interjected, "that at this stage of the case we might refer to it as a pony?"

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

Freedom of Speech

"I do not agree with a word you say, but I defend to the death your right to say it."—Voltaire.

The Canadian citizen says: It is our right to speak of what we please, when we please, to whom we please. We can and do criticize actions, governments, governing—criticize the doings, movements of our neighborhood societies. We are free to argue, state opinions on any subject from the worth of the United Nations to the merits of our local first baseman. In doing so, we purpose thinking with reason—not invective. There are no shackles on the brain, no gag on the mouth. We can make of ourselves, hence, bore or nuisance, but never a political prisoner.

Do we take this hard-won heritage too much for granted? We must persistently, consistently bear in mind this: We must be vocal, strong, alert to challenge any encroachment of our freedom, for none of our freedoms was paid for more dearly than this: freedom of speech. Slow, arduous, painful were the steps—climbing three, slipping two—but the climb continued—ever upwards to attainment of our goal! Today, no Canadian need fear the secret political informer—nor the midnight thud of jack-booted police.

With this freedom goes responsibility . . . responsibility to our countrymen, our family, ourselves, our laws.

Let us chart our course, true, unswerving, inexorable. The principle of freedom demands constant, twenty-four hours a day vigilance. Let us continue tolerant of the rights of the individual to differ and say so. Let us keep eyes on those rights—take not from the individual his dignity as a human being. That is the Canadian way. Let us ever cherish, assert and guard that precious democratic principle:

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, (AP)— Wheat soared to a new 30-year peak and oats set an all-time record high in a strong grain market on the board of trade Friday.

All wheat, all corn, all lard, December and May oats and March soybeans set seasonal peaks. In the cash market, a car of No. 1 extra heavy white oats sold at 1.37, a new high in the nearly 100 years of trading on this market.

The high for December wheat was 3.20½, or less than 5 cents under the all-time peak of 3.25 made on May 11, 1917.

December oats reached 1.27⅛, or ⅞ cent above the previous record high of 2.26¼ made last Monday. Until this year, the all-time high for any oats future was 1.08½ in 1920.

Wheat closed 5⅞-7¼ higher, corn was 7 to 7⅝ higher and oats were 1⅞-2⅝ higher.

TEASING TOM

A BIG blue jay who lives near the Teenie Weenie village is both helpful and annoying to the little people. He is forever playing pranks on the Teenie Weenies. The little workmen can't leave a tool lying about without running the risk of having the jay fly down and carry it away. He usually drops everything he takes down a hollow tree, and the Teenie Weenies most always find the missing things at the bottom of the tree.

The little folk overlook these tricks because Teasing Tom, as they have named him, is also a wonderful watchman. Sitting on top of a tree, Tom can see everything that moves for a great distance and he always croaks a warning if a weasel, a mink, a cat or a human being comes anywhere near the Teenie Weenie village. Tom watches everything the Teenie Weenies do. The little folk cannot make a single move without being seen by the inquisitive bird. While this is often a little annoying and sometimes a bit embarrassing it proved most helpful lately when the Turk had a serious accident.

The Teenie Weenies had been gathering hazel nuts for several days. Then one night it snowed and the next morning was very cold. In spite of the snow and cold, the Turk decided to get a few nuts out of some bushes before the red squirrels gathered all of them. He went off by himself and climbed up into a bush, where he began chopping off the nuts. Suddenly he slipped and fell. He probably would have caught onto a lower branch and saved himself, for Teenie Weenies can climb like squirrels, but his foot caught in the fork of a limb. He hung there unable to free himself because his foot was badly hurt and he hung in such a way he couldn't pull himself up. He called and called for help, but none of the Teenie Weenies could hear him. He soon began to grow numb with the cold and he might have frozen had Teasing Tom not spied him. The jay flew down, caught the Turk's sweater in his big beak, and gently pulled the Teenie Weenie free.

The Turk made motions that his foot was hurt and that he couldn't walk. The bird seemed to understand, for he flew off toward the Teenie Weenie village, carrying the Turk in his beak. Near the village the bird saw several of the Teenie Weenies walking in the snow. He settled down on a limb and handed the injured Turk over to his friends. They carried him to the shoe house, where the Doctor set a broken bone in his ankle. The Turk is now walking on crutches which he made out of two toothpicks and the Teenie Weenies are most grateful to Teasing Tom.
